Roosevelt Pledges All Material Aid To Allied Cause

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (AP)—President Roosevelt asserted this evening that Italy had scorned "the rights and security of other nations" and said that the United States would extend its material resources "to the opponents of force."
Mentioning nations specifically in his discussion of the war abroad, Mr. Roosevelt said in an address at graduation exercises at the University of Virginia that: "The people and government of the United States have seen with the utmost regret and with grave disquiet the decision of the Italian government to engage in the hostilities now raging in Europe."
The President declared the sympathies of the American republics "lie with those nations which are giving their lifeblood in combat against the gods of force and hate."

BIG SPEED UP

Two obvious courses will be pursued simultaneously, Mr. Roosevelt said:
"We will extend to the opponents of force the material resources of this nation and, at the same time, we will harness and speed up the use of those resources in order that we ourselves in the Americas may have equipment and training equal to the task of any emergency and every defence."

"All roads leading to the accomplishment of these objectives must be kept clear of obstructions. We will not slow down or detour. Signs and signals call for speed—full speed ahead."
The President's words reaching the world by radio, called on Americans for effort, courage, sacrifice and devotion.

TRIED TO STOP MUSSOLINI

Mr. Roosevelt brushed aside the secrecy surrounding his communications with Premier Mussolini of Italy to relate how, the government had tried to swerve Italy away from war.
He said he had proposed that if Italy would refrain from going to war, he would be willing to ask assurances from "the other powers concerned."

"That they would execute faithfully any agreement made to effect readjustments desired by Italy."
"Unfortunately," he asserted, "the chief of the Italian government was unwilling to accept the procedure suggested."

SOUGHT CO-OPERATION

The President said, too, that he had expressed his administration's willingness to try to co-operate with the Italian government when the appropriate occasion arose for creation of "a more stable world order through the reduction of armaments, and through the construction of a more liberal international economic system."

But by choosing to preserve what it terms its "freedom of action" and to fulfill what it states are its promises to Germany, Mr. Roosevelt said, Italy had manifested disregard for the lives of the peoples of those nations which are directly threatened by this spread of the war and had evidenced an unwillingness to attempt to achieve its aspirations by peaceful means.

Hold Off Passports Till Summer Ends

(Special to The Times)

OTTAWA—Representations of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce that the United States passport order may result in millions of dollars of loss in tourist business to Victoria and coast cities was placed before Prime Minister King as Minister of External Affairs today by R. W. Mayhew, M.P. The government was urged to clear the atmosphere without delay as it was pointed out news of the intended passport regulations already was turning tourists from Canada.

Mr. Mayhew said he did not suggest any action that might hamper the government in dealing with fifth column activities. Ottawa now is negotiating with Washington, D.C., to have passport enforcement postponed until after summer tourist season, as Canada is counting heavily on tourist trade income to aid war finance.

Murder Appeal

VANCOUVER (CP)—Appeal of Andrew Pederson, Norwegian fisherman sentenced to be hanged July 5 for the fatal stabbing of Mrs. Katherine Ebel Reid here last autumn, opened in Appeal Court today.

Swift Action on Italy's War Plunge

Defence Minister Dies in Crash Of R.C.A.F. Plane

OTTAWA (CP)—Hon. Norman McLeod Rogers, Minister of National Defence, and three men of the Royal Canadian Air Force died today in a crash near Newcastle, Ont.

LATE HON. N. M. ROGERS

The crew members killed were: Flying Officer John James Cotter, Halifax; Aircraftsman Oscar David Brownfield, Big River, Sask.; and Aircraftsman James Edward Nesbitt, Saskatoon. No others were in the plane.

The announcement of the names came from the Defence Department only a few minutes after Prime Minister Mackenzie King, to a hushed and grave House of Commons, had told of the death of the Defence Minister.

The Prime Minister said Mr. Rogers was going from the capital to speak at a joint meeting of the Empire and Canadian Clubs in Toronto.
(Newcastle is three miles west of Newtonville, from where the crash was first reported.)

The House met in an air of general gloom extended throughout the membership and the gallery spectators.

Mr. King's voice was low and shaking, scarcely audible, as he said "it is my sad duty to inform honorable members that my dear friend and colleague" has been killed in an airplane accident.

It was Mr. King's sad task also to tell the House that he himself had advised Mr. Rogers to call / out a speaking engagement at Toronto today.

Mr. Rogers had asked him if he should cancel the engagements in view of war developments. At the last minute he decided to fly to Toronto and fly back immediately in order to be present in the House this afternoon.

The Prime Minister said Mr. Rogers had discussed with him the question of whether or not he should keep his Toronto engagement.

ALL HAVE DUTIES

"I replied to him that I thought it was important all of us should realize the seriousness of the situation," Mr. King said.

But it was felt the absence of the minister from a public engagement at this time might cause undue alarm.

The Prime Minister said that when he and Mr. Rogers concluded their conversation preceding the minister's departure, Mr. Rogers' last words were: "Very well, I will carry on."

HANSON SPEAKS

Conservative leader Hanson said all members had been "profoundly shocked" at the news.

While he did not know Mr. Rogers well himself, he knew him by reputation. Mr. Rogers, he noted, was a son of Nova Scotia, whose province had perhaps contributed more than its share of men to the public life of Canada.

Speaking in French, Justice Minister Lapointe said he wished to add the expression of grief felt by the French-speaking people of Canada and the French-speaking members of the cabinet and of the House in the loss of Mr. Rogers.

His Quebec colleagues in the cabinet felt a sense of personal loss, said Mr. Lapointe, and he wished to extend deepest condolences to Mrs. Rogers and her family.

M. J. Caldwell, C.C.F. Roseville-Biggar, Sask., extended the sympathies of that group.

'We Stand Together to the End'

Britain's "man of the hour," Winston Churchill, and dynamic Premier Paul Reynaud of France smile with grim confidence in a warm handshake as they left a recent meeting of the supreme Allied war council in Paris. The battle of Flanders had been lost and the outlook was none too bright, but the confidence of the two great Allied leaders remained unshaken.

Canada's War Declaration

House Unanimous Against Italy

OTTAWA (CP)—The House of Commons unanimously gave approval this afternoon for Canada to declare war on Italy. The resolution was carried at 11:46 a.m. P.S.T., without a vote.

The resolution for such action was moved by Prime Minister Mackenzie King and seconded by Conservative Leader R. B. Hanson.

The Prime Minister said arrangements had been made to have the Governor-in-Council issue the necessary order as soon as the resolution carried in both Houses.

BY PROCLAMATION

A message will be sent to King George VI for a proclamation recognizing that a state of war exists between Canada and Italy. The Senate, scheduled to meet tomorrow night, was hastily summoned to deal with the resolution.

"History will record no more ignoble act than that of Mussolini," Mr. King declared. He likened the Italian dictator to "a cowardly bird waiting for brave men to die."

Mr. Hanson said Mussolini was "swooping like a buzzard" to profit from the extremities of other nations.

Sole objection to the resolution for war against Italy came from T. L. Church, Conservative, Toronto-Broadview, who contended that "when Britain is at war, Canada is at war also," making the resolution unnecessary.

To a grave assembly of the House the Prime Minister announced receipt of word from London that hostilities would start against Italy at midnight London time (3 p.m. P.S.T.).

STAFFS MUST LEAVE

Italian consular officials, headed by Marquis Alberto Rossi-Longhi, will have to leave Canada as soon as they can arrange it. The Marquis has been the senior Italian official here since March, 1937.

In all there are five diplomats on the staff of the consulate-general in Ottawa and with their families they will have to leave.

Altogether the Marquis is responsible for the departure of 35 Italians, vice-consuls and staff members, scattered all across Canada, with their families.

The news of Italy's entry into the war caused no surprise at the Italian consulate-general, but in an interview Marquis Rossi-Longhi said he had continued to hope the move would be averted.

Canada has no direct diplomatic representation in Rome, all Canadian matters being handled by the British Embassy.

Marquis Rossi-Longhi said he and his wife would find leaving "difficult" as they had found Canadians very friendly and had never experienced the least unpleasantness.

Major R. D. Harvey Military Judge.

Special to The Times

OTTAWA—Appointment of Major R. D. Harvey of Victoria, judge advocate for the British Columbia military district, was announced today on the recommendation of Col. R. J. Forde, judge advocate general, and confirmed by R. W. Mayhew, M.P. Major Harvey will come to Ottawa to take instructions from the Department of National Defence. He will have charge of courts-martial and other military cases.

Churchill to Speak

LONDON (CP)—Prime Minister Churchill is expected to make a public statement in the Commons tomorrow on Italy's entry into the war.

Sitting Postponed

LONDON (CP)—The secret sitting of the House of Commons set for tomorrow to discuss home defence has been postponed, it was announced tonight.

Allies Ready to Strike, Turkish Army Prepares

LONDON (CP)—The Ministry of Information tonight stated preparations of the Allies with regard to Italy are complete and that they will "know how to meet the sword with the sword."

Earlier authoritative sources had described the Italian entry into the war as a "treacherous blow" and declared that now that the Italians are in the conflict "they must expect to be treated by us in exactly the same way as the Germans."

"If Italy accepted the true meaning of the past," this source said, "she would be fighting on the same side as western civilization and would be fighting against Nazi paganism and the declared enemies of the Roman Catholic faith."

The war, he declared, is "not one which the Italian people will be waging to defend Italian honor, but one ordered by a small clique in Italy" interested only in the Fascist Party.

Italians in Role Of Mercenaries

"Now," he said, "we have the peculiar position of Italy fighting as a mercenary of Hitler for the aggrandizement of Germany—entirely counter to the true tradition and destiny of the Italian people."

"Never before have we been enemies. There is an intense dislike of fighting against the Italian people."

"Nevertheless, Italy has undertaken this treacherous blow and we have got to fight and win our war against Germany."

Britain, it was said, has done all in her power to meet Italy's complaints and is "absolutely unconscious of any sort of conflict or differences between Italy and Britain which justifies war."

"We are convinced," a spokesman said, "that this will be a long war unless there should be an unexpected collapse of Germany."

"Italy, therefore, is undertaking a burden of great sacrifices and the horror a long war will bring."

French Prepared On Pledge to Allies

PARIS (AP)—The French high command had prepared in advance for Italy's entry into the war on the side of Germany, it was declared tonight.

The Turkish government tonight prepared to declare a state of "alert," placing the nation virtually on a wartime basis, as official quarters reported the government determined to fulfill mutual assistance pact with the Allies.

Turkey Acts On Pledge to Allies

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP)—The Turkish government tonight prepared to declare a state of "alert," placing the nation virtually on a wartime basis, as official quarters reported the government determined to fulfill mutual assistance pact with the Allies.

Telephone Lines To Turkey Off

BUDAPEST (AP)—Telephone communications between Turkey and the rest of Europe suddenly were cut shortly before 8 p.m. (11 a.m. P.S.T.) today.

Attempts here to reach Turkey met with the response "lines down." It was believed the lines were shut down on government order as a military precaution.

GREECE TAKES STEPS

ATHENS (AP)—Naval and military precautionary measures were instituted early this evening by Greece following Italy's entry into the war. Fears were expressed in highly placed quarters that Italy would attempt to establish naval bases on Greek islands in the Aegean Sea.

Italians Reported Crossing Border

LIJUBLJANA, Yugoslavia (AP)—Despite Premier Mussolini's declaration that Italy would not molest neutral neighbors, the Yugoslav government tonight called up technical troops in large numbers and ordered further fortifications work immediately on both the Italian and German frontiers.

The official reaction to Mussolini's statement that his neighboring neutrals would be left alone was that there was little hope of keeping the war from running over into the Balkans.

Russia Watches Italy's Moves

BELGRADE (AP)—"If Yugoslavia's frontiers are violated, Russian intervention is expected on our behalf," sources close to the Yugoslav government said tonight.

A Foreign Office spokesman limited official declarations to this statement: "Jugoslavia will maintain strict neutrality."

"In the event of Turkey's entry into the war, the Yugoslav position will remain unchanged as far as we are concerned."

NEW YORK (CP)—The Associated Press said today in a dispatch from Berlin that Italian forces marched into French territory "through the Riviera" at approximately 6:30 p.m. (8:30 a.m. P.S.T.).

(There was no other report of such a troop movement.) The Associated Press said the information was given reporters by "authorized sources" at a conference at the Nazi foreign office called by Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop. Information concerning the purported Italian invasion of France was given out before a statement by Von Ribbentrop.

Ribbentrop's statement proclaimed the "joyful enthusiasm" with which he said the Nazis were filled because of Italy's entry into the war.

A dispatch from Rome said the Italian-French frontier was closed today and telephone com-

German Material Being Exhausted

This spokesman explained Gen. Weygand's statement "we are in the last quarter-hour" in his order of the day yesterday as meaning that the German material is becoming rapidly exhausted. All information given by German prisoners agrees on this point. The tanks, particularly, are being sent back in large numbers for repairs.

Nevertheless, the situation was admittedly serious as the Germans sent more than 100 divisions into their mechanized smash toward Paris and reached a point on the lower Seine within 35 miles of the capital.

Hurling what military experts considered their full force into a gigantic battle of men and machines, the Nazis battered ahead with planes, tanks and guns and followed up the way's of fresh infantry along a meandering front over 200 miles long from the English Channel east to the Maginot Line.

While the usual morning communique was issued, the usual morning military press conference at the War Ministry was not held. Only orders remained at the ministry.

Titantic Battles In 3 Sectors

With the Allied defenders reported sacrificing ground only "when it was covered with German dead" under Gen. Weygand's order, the titanic battle of France blazed most fiercely in three major sectors.

1. On the Allies' western flank, nearest the sea, where advance guards of German mechanized divisions, some 200 tanks, entered the suburbs of Rouen, rumbled into Pont de l'Arche, and drove into Gisors, only 38 miles north-west of Paris.

2. In the centre, where the surviving units of Nazi shock troops, after suffering tremendous losses, established two new bridgeheads across the River Aisne on either side of Soissons and carried the battle to the flat plain of Tardenois, about 20 miles south of the river and some 60 miles northeast of the capital.

3. Farther east, in the region of Vouziers. There, just on the edge of the plains of Champagne and behind the lines of the newest conflict, German planes dropped "Massive" detachments of parachute troops. The French said they promptly surrounded them and either dispatched the enemy aerial infantry, or took them prisoners.

Forces Fighting East of Beauvais

At one other point the Nazis drove to a region south of Montdidier and east of Beauvais. Since Beauvais itself is 30 miles airline from the outskirts of Paris, that would bring this thrust to between 30 and 40 miles from the outer edge of the capital. But it also was in this sector that the Nazis, according to the French high command, had suffered "a serious setback and considerable losses" on Saturday.

Paris newspapers made no attempt to hide the gravity of the situation as the battle neared the capital. In large headlines the papers termed the hour "crucial," "very serious" and "dramatic."

British Fleet Blasts Germans on Coast

LONDON (CP)—The British fleet is "shelling German troops on the coast" of France, said an official statement tonight.

It was also officially stated "important contingents of new troops already have disembarked in France to reinforce British forces which are fighting at the side of the Allies. The Royal Air Force in France also has been increased in strength."

All Valuable Points Destroyed

PARIS (AP via Radio)—Premier Paul Reynaud in a radio address to the French nation today said "our armies have retreated slowly, and only after destroying all points they have relinquished."

"And this is the moment that Mussolini chooses to declare war on us. France has nothing to say. Posterity will be able to judge."

The Premier proclaimed France's strength in the Mediterranean as her answer to Italy's entry into the war as Germany's ally.

"The Allies are stronger in the Mediterranean than anywhere else," he said.

Premier Reynaud declared the French ambassador at Rome had been told by Foreign Minister Count Ciano that Italy was fulfilling "her axis obligations."

"France may be ailing, but she is not downed," M. Reynaud said. "There has never been any time during the past when France has not been ready to negotiate peacefully to settle all differences in question."

He said "Italy has not seen fit to negotiate" despite overtures by both the Pope and President Roosevelt to "prevent the spread of war and further bloodshed."

"France is now in a position... to defend herself. Militarily speaking, France's position at the present time is unsailable."

By AXEL DE HOLSTEIN
PARIS (CP-Havas)—The entire French front from the sea to the Argonne—with all its fluctuations, withdrawal—manoeuvres, and pursuit of stray enemy tank units—is holding firm; it was stated officially here today.

The commanders of the various French armies are keeping "complete mastery of the operations and manoeuvres," it was said.

The morning communique of the French high command was confined to the simple statement that "from the sea to the Argonne the battle is continuing with increasing violence."

French general headquarters said that since the war is now one of large-scale movement, and the enemy is on the lookout for the slightest information, no further details can be given out of actual operations than those contained in the communique.

Gen. Maxime Weygand, commander-in-chief of the Allied forces, reiterated his order to the troops to "hold fast" in the face of the mass German onslaught in which more than 1,800,000 Nazi troops were engaged.

"The French soldiers are fighting with courage, initiative and resistance worthy of the highest admiration," an official French military spokesman said. "They are fighting like the soldiers of Verdun."

communications with France were cut.

Italy Dates War From Midnight

ROME (AP)—The Italian government tonight issued the following communique on Foreign Minister Count Galeazzo Ciano's notification of Great Britain and France that Italy was at war on Germany's side:

"Today at 4:30 p.m. (7:30 a.m. P.S.T.), Count Ciano, at Chigi palace, told the ambassador of France that His Majesty, the King and Emperor of Italy, declares that Italy considers herself at war with France beginning tomorrow, June 11.

"At 4:45 p.m., Count Ciano called the ambassador of Great Britain and handed him a statement couched in identical terms saying that Italy considers she is at a state of war with Great Britain."

The French embassy and consular staffs today hastily completed preparations to leave for Switzerland. Plans of British diplomats in Rome were not immediately disclosed.

Large detachments of troops marched today to the British and French embassies and consulates to protect them from possible hostile demonstrations at the conclusion of Premier Mussolini's speech.

Tanks Near Paris

PARIS (CP)—The Associated Press said marauding German tanks were reported tonight to have reached the Paris region itself while main combats raged in the Seine valley to the west and in the Ourcq valley to the northeast.

Ministry Leaves Paris

PARIS (AP)—The French government left Paris tonight.

Allied Bombers Hit on All Sides

PARIS (AP)—A War Ministry communique today announced that 75 tons of bombs were launched on German formations yesterday and last night, and added that more than 30 German planes had been brought down in the battle north of Paris.

German troops and armored columns on the march were especially harassed, the War Ministry said, particularly in the areas of Solsons, Pontavert, Bourg and Comin.

There were "very important breaks in the communication lines," the ministry said, adding that several bridges over the Oise were reported wrecked.

One French pursuit squadron alone brought down 12 German planes in the Oise sector without suffering a single loss itself, the communique said.

French reconnaissance planes flew constantly over German attack points and the rear lines, bringing back reports for the high command, the War Ministry said.

30 Tons of Bombs Dropped on Targets

Last night's Air Ministry communique said:

"Working in close collaboration with land forces, our crews during the night concentrated their action on the very theatre of the violent battle which is now taking place.

"Several times they delivered powerful attacks against important communications—hubs and troops convoys in the Ham-Peronne-St. Quentin sector.

"Great fires were seen after the attacks of our bomber squadrons.

"On points occupied by the enemy, the harassing of supply columns and armored units continued all day by means of both bombs and machine guns.

"A single bomber group dropped more than 30 tons of explosives on the enemy.

"All planes returned to their bases.

"Pursuit and assault planes continued their destructive action against armored units and enemy tanks.

"Tank groups were destroyed, motorized columns had to swing back and were dispersed by the intense attacks of our planes.

These actions were carried out in perfect co-operation with land action.

R.A.F. Bombers Spread Chaos

LONDON (CP)—Bombardment of German-held Amiens and Abbeville by the Royal Air Force during the last 24 hours were announced tonight by the air ministry.

Besides the forays behind the German lines in northern France, the ministry said heavy bombers had attacked Nazi formations in Rhenish Prussia and the Ruhr.

Last night it was announced the wide-ranging Royal Air Force bombers blew up hidden German ammunition dumps in the Ardennes mountains, set fire to Nazi oil tanks in Belgium, and

Plunged Into War Beside Hitler

The above map shows the fortified points of Italy, which today went to war against the Allies. Britain and France have the largest fleet they have ever jointly stationed in the Mediterranean and reportedly an army of 1,000,000 men in the Near East.

bombed and machine-gunned enemy troops behind the front.

The air raids and attacks on German troops spread "destruction and chaos" behind the enemy lines, the air ministry said, and caused German troops to flee precipitately from British machine gun bullets.

More British Troops Rushed Into France

LONDON (CP)—Prime Minister Churchill said in a message today to Premier Reynaud of France:

"The maximum possible support is being given by British forces in the great battle which the French armies are now conducting with such undaunted courage.

"An hour signed by destiny is ticking on the skies of our country, an hour of the irrevocable decisions. A declaration of war has already been given to the ambassadors of Great Britain and France.

"All available means are being used to give help on land, sea and in the air."

"The Royal Air Force has been continually engaged over the battlefield, and within the last few days fresh British forces have landed in France to take their place with those already engaged in the common struggle, whilst further extensive reinforcements are being rapidly organized and will shortly be available."

At the same time London military circles said the situation in France is of "increasing difficulty."

DEFENCES INCREASED

Britain pressed her efforts to insure her own safety against invasion and waited anxiously for definite news from the continent where the Royal Air Force and Tommies are heavily engaged in the critical "battle of France."

British troops are engaged in some of the heaviest fighting and have been battling shoulder to shoulder with the French on the left end of the line, the military commentator said.

German forces have made three main thrusts, he said, namely toward Rouen, to the south of Solsons and a new drive on both sides of Rethel.

Of the three attacks the first appears to be the most serious, and has made the most progress, the commentator said, the Germans having reached the Seine in this thrust.

'ITALY WILL LOSE' DUFF-COOPER

LONDON (CP)—Alfred Duff-Cooper, great Britain's Minister of Information, tonight declared Premier Mussolini "the opportunist" had stabbed "an old friend" in the back by declaring war on France.

He said Italy had aligned itself with an hereditary enemy in a war against an hereditary friend.

"Whatever temporary successes they may achieve in the early days of the war," he said, "they will be defeated in the end."

Should Germany win the war, he said, Italy's fate would be even worse than in the event of an Allied victory.

"But we have no need to fear

Mussolini Declares War In Speech to Rome Crowd

ROME (AP via radio)—Italy tonight took the plunge into war at the side of Germany.

Premier Mussolini made the announcement in a bombastic speech from the balcony of the Palazzo Venezia before a crowd of Fascists.

TEXT OF SPEECH

NEW YORK (AP)—The text of Mussolini's address, as translated and transcribed by the National Broadcasting Co., follows:

"Combatants on land, sea and in the air, blackshirts of the revolution and of the legion, men and women of Italy, of the empire and of the kingdom of Albania, listen:

"An hour signed by destiny is ticking on the skies of our country, an hour of the irrevocable decisions. A declaration of war has already been given to the ambassadors of Great Britain and France.

"We shall descend on the fields against the plutocratic democracies and the reactionary democracies of the west—who in all times have always obstructed the march of the Italian people. Some facts of more recent history can be assumed in these words, promises, menaces and threats against us by 32 states. Our conscience is absolutely quiet. With us the whole world is a testament that Italy has done what was humanly possible to avoid the storm that is overwhelming Europe.

"It was not enough to see again the treaties, to realize that they were not adequate to the times and that they would have to be changed. The Allies should have accepted the proposals of Hitler before the Polish campaign.

"Today we are decided to face the sacrifices of the war and the risks of the war to safeguard the honor and the interests and the future, because a great people is only such if it considers sacred those pledges which determine history.

"You will take arms to safeguard our frontiers and also to solve the wartime problems. We want to break the chains which are keeping our seas closed, because 45 millions of souls are not free unless they have free access to the ocean.

"This gigantic effort is the fight of the rich people against those who have nothing but who are rich with arms and the right to work.

"Our will: Italy does not intend such an eventuality," he declared, expressing confidence the axis partners would be defeated.

"No war," he said, "as ever been declared with such little provocation."

"This indeed is the criminal act of a common murderer.

"Murderers very often succeed in the first instance, . . . but the end of murderers is always painful.

"We know the Italians of old," he said, "and we know that whatever other qualities they may possess, we can defeat them on the field of battle."

"And we shall win!—to give finally a long period of peace to Italy, to Europe, to the world.

"Italian people, to arms; and show your tenacity, your courage, your valor."

Late Minister Had Fine Career

Hon. Norman Rogers, killed in a plane crash in Ontario today, had directed Canada's fighting war effort since last September 18, when he succeeded Hon. Ian Mackenzie in a cabinet shuffle following the outbreak of war.

He had been Labor minister from the time the Mackenzie King government was formed in 1935.

In his Toronto speech today Mr. Rogers had planned to outline the steps taken by the Canadian government in the present critical stage of the war and assure loyal, naturalized Canadians of enemy extraction that they need have no fear of internment.

He was born July 25, 1894 in Amherst, N.S., served as a private in the first Great War, and rose to cabinet rank through posts as secretary to Mr. Mackenzie King and a professorship at Queen's University, which he abandoned in 1935 to enter the cabinet.

He was first elected to the House of Commons from Kingston City in 1935 and was re-elected in the March 26 general election. On June 7, 1924, he married Mary Francis Parker of Toronto, and there are two sons.

Five Drowned In Boat Mishap

HAVILAND BAY, Ont. (CP)—Five persons were drowned when the outboard motor boat in which they were riding capsized in Lake Superior last night. Two others of the party who spent yesterday at this resort, 40 miles north of Sault Ste. Marie, clung to the craft till help arrived.
The dead, all of Sault Ste. Marie, were:
Mr. and Mrs. Gordon McDonald and their son, Donnie, seven.
Mrs. Verne Mills and her infant son, Wayne.
It is believed that members of the party, moving to avoid spray, may have caused the boat to capsize.
Verne Mills, also on the party but not in the boat, walked to a point three miles across the bay, where automobiles were waiting to return the party to Sault Ste. Marie. Finding no one at the landing place he obtained a row-boat and when he reached the capsized craft, his 16-year-old daughter, June, and Doreen McDonald, 10, were clinging to the sides.

Spruce Mills Burned

PRINCE RUPERT, B.C. (CP)—Management of the Billmore Spruce Mills said today they had not discovered the cause of a fire which Saturday destroyed the concern's plant at Porpoise Bay, seven miles east of Prince Rupert on the Canadian National Railway's line.
The mill had resumed operations only a few days ago. A stock of shingles also was destroyed by the blaze. No estimate of damage was given and there was no insurance.
By one estimate, a typical man has to shave 24,000 hairs on face and neck.

Time for Nations To Drop False Neutrality Cloak

COURTENAY, B.C. (CP)—Rt. Rev. Donald MacLean, professor of sociology at the Catholic University of America at Washington, D.C., told 2,000 Roman Catholics last night "it is truly the time for all nations of the western hemisphere to strip off the false cloak of neutrality."
Speaking at a banquet held in connection with the one-day Eucharist Congress of the diocese of Victoria, he declared the new world should "muster all its moral, social, economic and political forces against the tidal flood of barbaric, militant, atheistic paganism which hourly becomes more ominous in its menace to all that Christian nations and civilized people prize."

"Thank God Canada has not hesitated one instant in declaring the stand for which its forces shall be marshalled," he added.
Rt. Rev. P. J. Carroll, Roman Catholic Bishop of Calgary, spoke at an open-air service in Lewis Park.

Bishop John C. Cody of Victoria, officiated at Pontifical High Mass in the Church of the Canadian Martyr, Rev. Bernard Quinn, O.M.I., of Vancouver, who has just completed a three-day mission here and at Cumberland, B.C., preached the sermon at the mass.

Following the mass the crowd paraded through the streets to Lewis Park for an open-air service and later attended a banquet.

A special train from Victoria, bearing more than 1,500 persons, arrived here just prior to the procession to the park. Music for the parade was played by the Nainimo band.

Four Indians supplied a guard of honor beside a canopy under which walked Bishop Cody, carrying the Blessed Sacrament from the church to the park, where benediction was held.

The parade through the main street was extremely colorful, with black-draped nuns, white-robed nuns, Indians, Chinese and Japanese children and members of various Roman Catholic organizations, including the Sisters of St. Ann, the Christian Brothers of Ireland, the Knights of Columbus and hundreds of young people.

War Supply Speed-up

Two Munitions Plants For Allies in Canada

OTTAWA (CP)—In association with the British and French governments, Canada will begin construction immediately of two munitions plants with a combined total capitalization of $20,000,000, it was announced today by Hon. C. D. Howe, Minister of Munitions.
One of the plants will be a shell filling plant and will cost approximately $8,000,000 and the other will produce nitro-cellulose explosives and will cost about $12,000,000. The British and Canadian governments will share jointly in work of the first and the French and Canadian governments in the second.

Weygand Expects German Exhaustion

'Hold Tight' Defence Awaits Nazi Crack

PARIS (AP)—An imperturbably calm little man who seems to be here, there and everywhere directed France's millions of poilus today in a "hold tight" defence against what French military sources call Adolf Hitler's "all-out" offensive.

Gen. Maxime Weygand, 73-year-old Allied commander-in-chief and veteran of many battles, was playing the only strategy left to him: he was meeting the enemy's onslaughts with murderous fire, selling ground at an enormous price, believing that the Germans, after exerting their full effort, would find out that they could not quite make it.

French military sources expressed belief Hitler has thrown everything he has into the effort to take Paris.

The fact the French lines are falling back, they say, is not necessarily alarming so long as they do not crack, and Gen. Weygand yesterday said in his order of the day: "We have reached the last quarter of an hour."

A phrase finding favor is that the Germans "may go from victory to victory—to defeat." That is, the essence of Gen. Weygand's defence—luring the enemy out, inflicting huge losses, converting each village into a hastily fortified camp, fighting from town to town, village to village, forest to valley to river bank.

By "the last quarter of an hour," Gen. Weygand meant the battle had reached a point where, if the French keep their lines intact, the Germans must quickly exhaust themselves.

A man who saw Gen. Weygand yesterday said he was as calm as ever. He works at a modest little table in the French general headquarters between lightning visits to the fighting front and to Paris to confer with government leaders.

He is the kind of man who can still, in the eighth decade of his life, defer sleep, and then sleep soundly when he does sleep. He can put off eating and later eat heartily. He gets up at 7 and works until late at night.
"In that man," say the people on all sides, "is vested the hope of France."

Aged Aliens Interned

LONDON (CP)—Enemy aliens between 60 and 70 years old, whose movements previously had been restricted, now are to be interned, it was disclosed today.

Planes, Munitions From U.S. Speeded

NEW YORK (AP)—The Anglo-French Purchasing Board announced the "flow of munitions of all kinds shipped from America will be immediately augmented" as a result of recent federal action releasing surplus government equipment and material.

The board said it had been informed that "certain important quantities of war materials, old, but in fully serviceable condition—have been or are being declared surplus by the United States army and navy."

"This, coming on top of deliveries against orders already placed," the board continued, "will enable the . . . board to continue its future activities on a constantly widening basis."

Allied war purchasers, who have heretofore concentrated mostly in aircraft and tools, now are tapping United States industry for an assortment of other weapons and materials, it was learned.

Wall Street sources said British and French agents suddenly have widened their range of orders and inquiries to speed equipment plans and replace losses. Total orders placed since September now are estimated at $1,300,000,000, and the figure is expected to grow rapidly.

Airplane contracts signed or in early prospect approximate $1,200,000,000. Spokesmen for the Allied Purchasing Commission have said "more than 8,000 warplanes" have been ordered.

ATTACK PLANES GIVEN
WASHINGTON (AP)—Approximately 100 heavily armed attack planes, especially designed to harass enemy troops from low altitudes, were earmarked by the War Department at the week-end for possible fighting in France, under the administration's "trade-in" arrangement for army and navy planes.

The craft are Northrop single-motor attack planes, which the Army Air Corps relegated to non-combatant utility roles last year primarily because of their limited range of action. They will be turned back to the manufacturer who, in turn, will be free to sell them to the Allies.

Airmen said the planes are well adapted to the relatively short distances in Europe, and expressed confidence they were at least the equal of similar craft employed by the Nazis to "strafe" the Allies in Flanders.

Sequoias Transplanted

Giant Sequoia trees, found only in California a few years ago, have been transplanted and are thriving in Australia, England, France, Italy, Japan, New Zealand and Switzerland.

Withdrawal At Narvik Sends Troops to France

LONDON (CP)—An announcement by the Ministry of Information today said:
"With the foreknowledge and understanding of His Majesty, the King (Haakon) of Norway, and the Norwegian government, the British and French troops have been withdrawn from northern Norway."

"The King of Norway and the Norwegian government are now in Great Britain and a proportion of the Norwegian armed forces have been withdrawn from Norway in order to be reformed for action on other fronts."

"The capture of Narvik enabled action to be taken to prevent the Germans using it for the export of iron ore for a considerable time. Troops and material from northern Norway can now be used to greater advantage elsewhere in the main struggle to defeat German attempts at domination, upon the outcome of which Norwegian independence finally depends."

It was indicated that port facilities at Narvik had been demolished, preventing the Germans using it for ore shipping.

TWO MONTHS' FIGHT ENDS

STOCKHOLM (AP)—After two months and a day of fighting against the Germans, Norwegian troops, on order of King Haakon VII, Norwegian troops laid down their arms last midnight.

The declaration by the king and the government was read by Foreign Minister Dr. Halvdan Koht in a radio broadcast from Tromsø, north of Narvik, which had been the Allies' provisional headquarters in the far north.

It stated the Norwegian Storting decided on capitulation on the advice of Gen. Otto Ruge, the commander-in-chief, and that on June 17 it had been decided that the king and the government should take a seat outside the country.

Pointing out it was impossible to continue the struggle without Allied aid, the declaration said:

"If we continue to fight it would only mean complete destruction. The German invaders do not save peaceful villages and civilians. The commander-in-chief

Swiss on Guard as Germans Mass

Maginot Guns Pound Nazis in Black Forest

BERNE (AP)—Switzerland was armed for any eventuality, but outwardly calm today in the face of new German troop concentrations along her borders and Allied expressions of anxiety that a Nazi invasion may be imminent.

Fresh German reserve divisions were reported to have slipped into the Black Forest during the night, drawing a tremendous bombardment from the heavy guns of the French Maginot forts along the Rhine shortly before dawn.

Residents of Basel were awakened by the ear-splitting crash of the cannonading and hurried to vantage points to watch the flashes of light which flamed along the French-German front for miles.

After an hour of shelling the German Westwall fortifications opened up in reply just as day broke. Both sides suddenly ceased firing 25 minutes later.

Three huge fires which continued to blaze in German villages long after the firing had ended, apparently indicated the French had hit oil and gasoline tanks in the Nazi fortified zone.

One fire burned at Aaltigen, within a mile of the Swiss frontier, another at Liesten and the third at the mouth of the Tullingen railway tunnel. German shells apparently fired some therefore advised the king and the government to capitulate, and they followed his advice."

WESTERN FRONT

"It may seem without sense to give up the fight now, but we must see things from the point of view of the Allies," Dr. Koht declared in his broadcast speech.

"One may direct reproach at the Allies, but the fate of Norway and the world now lies on the western front. Every man, every gun and every plane now is needed on the western front," he said.

King Haakon's declaration was in a similar vein, and explained that Norwegian resources, as well as soldiers withdrawn from the Narvik front, would be placed at the disposal of the Allies in France.

Gen. Ruge, who was urged to go with the government but buildings in the French Alsace village of Burgfelden.

The Swiss estimated the Germans had approximately 20 divisions concentrated in the region of the Black Forest.

About 400,000 Swiss troops are standing ready in the Wilhelmsried Line facing Germany and in the Alpine passes looking down on Italy.

Key points in the Swiss defences are well manned in the valley of the Aar, which leaves the Rhine at Koblenz and flows south toward Geneva. Even more powerful groups are stationed farther south, where the main branches of the Limmat and Reuss flow respectively east and southeast.

SWISS READY

If the Germans should attempt a blitz offensive into Switzerland the Aar would be the logical pathway for an eastern counterpart of the Schlieffen plan—and the Swiss believe the Aar would be a tough nut to crack.

Swiss newspapers recorded briefly that young Germans residing in Switzerland had been recalled to their homeland within the last two days for military service.

The fact that members of the large German colony in Switzerland had not been called home up to now led other foreign residents to fear the Nazis might be turned into a fifth column.

stayed behind to negotiate the surrender of his remaining troops to the Germans, issued a statement declaring that Norway, "in spite of the fact that we are not defeated," was abandoning its resistance to save the northern part of the country from "being completely destroyed."

Addressed to "Norwegian men and women," Gen. Ruge's statement said:

"The first phase of the war is over. We are meeting a dark period, but the fight will continue at other fronts, where there also are Norwegians."

"Keep in mind that time when we fought together as one man. We will not finish this war until we again live under the Norwegian flag as free men."

The first successful instrument landing was made on September 24, 1929.

Mine Director Found Mentally Unfit

MONTREAL (CP)—A court of King's Bench jury decided today James Barton Niver of Montreal, a director of Stadacona Rouyn Mines Limited, was mentally unfit to continue trial on a charge of conspiracy to defraud the public and Stadacona shareholders of nearly $2,500,000.

When today's session opened Mr. Justice Wilfrid Lazure told the jury Niver, 63, had been under examination by physicians for the past three days. He then instructed the court clerk to swear in the jurors for the purpose of determining whether the accused was fit to stand trial.

A brief adjournment in the two-week-old trial had been caused last Friday when Niver, one of five accused, was stricken with illness while being taken to the courthouse from jail.

Il Duce Uses His Stiletto

WHEN GREAT BRITAIN AND FRANCE accepted Germany's challenge last September there remained the possibility of war with Fascist Italy. For several months it looked as if Mussolini might keep clear of the conflict altogether. But as the fortunes of the Allies began to undergo an inescapable decline he contemplated his stiletto. Since the invasion of the Low Countries by his brutalitarian axis partner he has fondled the national instrument; he has been wondering how he could use it to the best advantage. At last he saw the Allied back. He has driven it between the shoulder blades. Brave man! A nasty wound? Yes; but the courage and resourcefulness of peoples fighting for the right will cauterize it.

The man who added his challenge to international decency today may, or may not, live to receive the coward's deserts in full measure. Once again this workaday world has learned the type of man he is. He is the same Mussolini who condoned the murder of Matteotti more than a decade and a half ago; the same Mussolini who has driven from their native land hundreds of savants of international repute; the same Mussolini who 15 years ago warned his critics that the only language fit for them was the "language of the revolver." He is the man who now says "our conscience is perfectly tranquil," that the world knows Italy has "tried in vain for peace," and that "the Allies should not have repulsed the peace offers made by Hitler." It is the same Mussolini who was not prevented from raping Ethiopia; the same Mussolini whose soldiers met ignominious defeat in one of their biggest battles for Fascism in Spain. And he is also the father of the gallant airman who thought it "good fun" to drop bombs on the helpless natives of Abyssinia.

Six weeks ago one of Italy's influential provincial newspapers warned those who may not have understood Mussolini's war aims that they would see everything "quite clearly when Il Duce 'appears on the balcony and says: 'Italians, listen!' The journal referred to was the Bologna Resto del Carlino, which also intimated that if Italy entered the war, "we will do it for ourselves and for our own interests," and "if they coincide with those of the German people," it should be "so much the better." As Il Duce shouted from "the balcony," the die is now cast. The peoples of the British and French empires, the peoples of the neutral states who know how totalitarianism acts when "appeasement" gives them less than they want, no longer have to speculate on the policy of the gentleman with the stiletto. Perhaps it is much better to have a known enemy than a doubtful friend.

Knowing the worst—if it is the worst because another totalitarian dictator has delivered his treacherous blow—the defenders of international order and honesty will proceed to adjust their plans to the new circumstances, on the assumption, too, as proclaimed by the Bologna newspaper, that Germany's interests are Italy's interests. This means that Italy must expect to be treated in exactly the same way as the Nazis are being treated. On this score one British spokesman observes: "If Italy accepted the true meaning of the past, she would be fighting on the same side as western civilization and would be fighting against Nazi paganism and the declared enemies of the Roman Catholic faith." But totalitarian mentality is foreign to reason; no one will expect Mussolini, the would-be Caesar, in his present mood to consider logistics. What is the use of arguing that the Italian people will not be waging war to defend Italy? Perhaps scarcely one in a thousand gathered under the balcony of the Palazzo Venezia today realizes that Il Duce's decision has been ordered by a comparatively small clique—who dream of the Mediterranean as "Mare Nostrum"—who are hungry for spoils.

Optimistic though we are and must remain as we cast our minds ahead, Italy's entrance into the war, of course, obtrudes many implications. Until the new scene of operations has begun to unfold it would be pointless to speculate. We know, however, that Il Duce's declaration has not surprised the Allies. It will go down in history as the most intensely press-gauged national policy of this age. But it creates another extensive front. In this, however, Italy may discover greater difficulties for herself than are apparent at the moment. For the time being, therefore, we must keep our chins up and our hearts stout. The brutes are having their fling. Our turn will come, Italy's conscience then will not be as "perfectly tranquil" as Mussolini says it is.

How Right He Was

HERE IS AN EXTRACT FROM A speech delivered by Mr. Winston Churchill three years before Munich—in the September of 1935: "Germany is arming on a gigantic scale and at an unexampled speed. The whole force and power of Nazism is being concentrated upon warlike preparation on land, on sea, and in the air. Germany, organized and led as she is now, must appear to everyone who has any sense of proportion as the greatest and most grim fact in the world today."

Canada's Great Loss

ALL CANADA AND THE EMPIRE ARE shocked by the tragic death of Hon. Norman Rogers. Traveling this afternoon from Ottawa to Toronto in a Royal Canadian Air Force plane to speak of "Canada's War Effort in the Air," he and three of his companions met their end when their machine crashed near Newtonville, 40 miles east of their destination.

Mr. Rogers had directed Canada's fighting war effort since last September, succeeding Hon. Ian Mackenzie when Mr. King reorganized his cabinet after the outbreak of hostilities, and for five years prior to that he had discharged the exacting duties of Minister of Labor with most conspicuous success. Only recently he had returned from Great Britain, where he had thoroughly familiarized himself with the realities of this war and its new threats to the liberties of the world, and since then he had taken only sufficient time off to sleep and eat.

A son of Nova Scotia, whence have come some of Canada's outstanding leaders and distinguished servants, Mr. Rogers fought through the Great War as a private; he knew the lot of the rank and file. He gained his insight into public life through posts as secretary to Mr. Mackenzie King, and a professorship at Queen's University, abandoning the latter to assume the portfolio of Labor on the return of the Liberal government in 1935. No sooner had he settled down in his ministerial seat than he developed a new approach to the problem of unemployment in the Dominion. He was the driving force behind the home improvement scheme which stimulated demand for labor in a basic productive Canadian industry. The youth training plan under his jurisdiction gave him a practical insight into the problem of young Canada; testimony to the excellent dividends this program has paid has been found in the willingness with which Parliament has continually granted the funds for its expansion. In other words, Mr. Rogers understood the condition of the human and material resources on which he developed his department's part of the nation's war effort—before the nation knew what turn the conflict would take and since the "Blitzkrieg" began in earnest.

Not only is the death of Mr. Rogers a great loss to Canada, an especially tragic blow to the Prime Minister and his colleagues, it is one which the whole Empire will mourn. The task ahead of him was gigantic in all its multifarious implications; but he had shown his courage and resourcefulness in the face of facts over which he had no control, under criticism both untelligent and unjustified. And he has done a magnificent job; Canada will discover that fully before she is much older.

Nazi 'News' Tactics

ONE OF THE MOST DANGEROUS weapons in the German strategy of attack, writes Britannicus, the well-known British war and political commentator, is rumor. Developments in recent weeks, moreover, have greatly enhanced the effectiveness of this weapon in German hands. The swarms of refugees which the Germans drive before them in their advance, interspersed with German agents, provide an excellent medium for carrying alarmist rumors. More important is the occupation by Germany of great sources of European news such as Amsterdam and Copenhagen; the virtual cutting off of others, such as Stockholm; and the control of wireless stations and of the transcontinental cable and telephone services which Germany's aggressions have brought her.

This has not only resulted in the drying up of sources of reliable neutral and in particular of American news, but it has enabled Germany to apply with renewed vigor her well-known technique of spreading lies and rumors under neutral guise. Thus the Oslo radio quotes Belgrade when recounting fantastic tales that revolution is breaking out in France; Budapest quotes Copenhagen for a fairy story that the French are suing for a separate peace; Rome quotes Stockholm as authority for a fable that British troops are abandoning France and so forth. All these allegedly neutral reports in fact emanate from German sources and are without exception false.

Real 'Dogs of War'

Science Service
There are real "dogs of war." The French army has a dog service which is a definite part of the military forces. The Ontario Research Foundation, investigating Canada's resources for similar aid to British forces, tells of war work done by dogs.

Sentinel dogs mount guard with their masters at lonely posts and are invaluable owing to their acute hearing and sense of smell. They give warning by growling when someone approaches but are trained not to bark. Not only this, but they are ready to attack an enemy if ordered to do so. Liaison dogs perform much the same service as carrier pigeons; though the liaison dog can actually do better than the pigeon because he has been trained to obey two masters; to deliver a message and return with the reply. They can carry messages, both night and day, more rapidly than men on foot. The messages are enclosed in small cylinders attached to the collar.

Patrol dogs work on a long metal leash and accompany patrol parties. They go ahead and nose out the enemy if he is in ambush. They are trained not to bark and will attack if necessary.

Watch dogs are used in munition depots, aviation fields and prison camps to keep unauthorized persons from entering the premises.

"Chiens de recherches" are dogs trained to follow the tracks of persons who are wanted, and are used in hunting out spies. These dogs must have good noses and the best of them will probably have bloodhound ancestry.

U.S. REALITIES

IN CONSIDERING what the United States can do in this war to prevent a totalitarian victory it is necessary to keep in mind certain basic realities. Greatest of these is the real bond of union of the whole nation's pride in a rather nebulous ideal called "the American way" and determination to maintain it all at all costs and against all comers.

In the past the overwhelming majority of the American people had an instinctive conviction that the best way to protect and preserve that way of life was to pursue a policy called "minding our own business." The idea was that the United States would leave the other fellow alone if the other fellow reciprocated. That policy has been very greatly modified over the decades. Increasing wealth and industrial power took American interests into every corner of the globe. The automobile and the aeroplane—largely American creations—also wiped out distances as political insulators. The United States fought Spain to make America more American, and found herself with entanglements in Asia, as a result of the unpremeditated acquisition of the Philippines.

Yet the determination to remain isolationist—that is American—has remained the instinctive wish of the American people. The mass of the people, at the bottom, so to speak, have put increasing pressure on all governments to get out of the Far East, and everywhere else where complications might result.

In my opinion the great mass of United States people still regard the American participation in the Great War as a mistake. It is only recently that these people everywhere have begun to realize that a world in which Germany, rather than Britain and France, were the European guiding power would be a totally different world for them than anything previously existing. Britain and France will fight to the last ditch in this war for reasons of sheer self-preservation. But in the long run the United States will also fight because the whole American people will realize that their "American way" will become but an anguished memory if the dictators win this war.

INTERNATIONAL G-MEN

IT IS EXTREMELY unlikely that the United States will send any army or navy to Europe in this war, no matter what happens. The army will not go, partly because of the basic American instinct. The navy will not be able to go, unless complete and certain arrangements were previously reached with Japan.

My guess is that the inevitable crystallization of all these effervescing factors will be that the United States will send exactly what the Allies need most, and when they need them most—namely, planes now, and planes with pilots a little later on.

It is easy for Canadians to adopt an attitude of moral superiority, and say why does not the United States do such-and-such. Most of such expressions come from people who have no knowledge of political realities in the United States. Incidentally, I have also noticed a strange phenomenon—that the loudest critics of the United States, for not doing some things as quickly as some people think they should be done, were themselves the strongest supporters of the disastrous and dishonest policy pursued by the British governments during the days when Spain was delivered to Mussolini, Czechoslovakia turned over to Hitler, and Russia driven by her gangster's bargain with Hitler, because the real rulers of Britain were thinking in terms of class interest and not Empire security or national duty.

It took time for Mr. Churchill, and others who thought like him, to overcome the political power of the tired, the fools, and the downright knaves in high places. When the censors lift the lid and the world learns the astounding story of intrigue and betrayal it will not be just the ex-King of the Belgians who loses caste in the eyes of the world but a lot of others, nearer home.

Meanwhile loyal Britishers who know what is at stake in this war might also realize that the United States also has her problem—quite different, but very real.

HISTORIC FAMILY

From Edmonton Journal

The young Duke of Northumberland, whose death in action was reported last week, was the head of the Percy family, which has played a large part in the history of English arms since the time of William the Conqueror. On one of his followers, William de Percy, he bestowed a great fief, and the story of the exploits of his successors down through the centuries is a stirring one. Thanks to Shakespeare, the Percy with whose prowess we are most familiar is the man who was known as Hotspur. He was the eldest son of the first earl. Born in 1346, he was killed near Shrewsbury in 1403.

The Fight Against Totalitarianism

By MARJORIE VAN DE WATER

UNITING IN A co-operative effort to save democracy and intellectual freedom in the face of what they believe to be a serious threat from totalitarian thinking, a group of scientists, philosophers, and religious leaders met in New York the other day to discuss plans for a national conference. The conference is to be held next fall and is an attempt to surmount the barriers of departmentalized thought which have so far hindered religious leaders and scientists from working in close harmony.

It is intended that the conference will be a permanent organization. Discussions will be arranged at various universities and colleges for the purpose of acquainting students with the philosophical and religious implications of scientific findings and also with the scientific approach to problems of philosophy, religion and ethics.

INDIVIDUAL WORTH

Civilization is threatened by the rise of totalitarian systems, the group meeting here today declared. Science, philosophy and religion face a common danger, for none of them can survive in an atmosphere of totalitarian thinking. They can survive, these men have decided, only in a world which respects the human worth of the individual.

Philosophy and religion contribute to the world of science a recognition of the dignity of the human individual and the rights of humanity, to live and to add to human knowledge. Science contributes a searching, experimental attitude that refuses to accept dogmas and limit experimentation.

All have a common stake in the democratic way of life.

Meeting in New York were Prof. Louis Finkelstein of the Jewish Theological Seminary of America; Prof. Harold D. Lass-

LITERATURE IN WARTIME

From Winnipeg Free Press

Already there are speculations concerning the effect of the war on Canadian literature. What will the war do to it, especially since it is not an altogether hardy plant? Most of the answers offered to this question are little more than guesses, and guesses without much sound basis. It is generally supposed, however, that the effect will be to cut the bulk slightly, and in that negative fashion raise somewhat the standard. It is too early to be more detailed in prognostication than that.

But when the reckoning comes, one will have to be grateful to the University of Toronto's Quarterly. The reason? Well, in order to know whether the war causes Canadian literature to progress or regress, some sort of measuring stick will be necessary. And the University of Toronto has abundantly supplied us with that article.

The reference, of course, is to the annual "Letters in Canada" which the Quarterly has now published for five years. It is a remarkable cataloguing of Canada's yearly literary output, all suitably departmentalized, and with astute criticism of the major sections of writing. The report for the year 1939 is just to hand, and it is a highly satisfactory tool for the student of Canadian literature to work with.

Indeed, on all counts, "Letters in Canada" is a valuable compilation. There is nothing like it in the country. One can at a moment's notice learn the accumulation of effort in any one branch of the Dominion's literary endeavor, and rapidly evaluate that accumulation. Therefore, when the time comes to definitely answer the question, "What has the war done to Canadian literature?" the pages of this remarkable compilation will give the only aid currently available. May the editors thereof carry on with undiminished energy and insight!

Longevity and health have nothing to do with each other. "Breathing spells" of illness slow down life in order to allow it to start off again with renewed energy.—Dr. Jean Besancon, 80, French physician.

Better English

1. What is wrong with this sentence? "It was a splendid book."
2. What is the correct pronunciation of "coop"?
3. Which one of these words is misspelled? Invention, attention, tentation, intervention.

4. What does the word "infuse" mean?

5. What is a word beginning with imp that means "to urge persistently"?

Answers

1. Say, "an interesting book." One may say "a splendid (brilliant) diamond," or "a splendid (illustrious) man." 2. Pronounce the oo as in cool, not as in book. 3. Tentation. 4. To inspire or infuse with; animate; fill. "He infused life into the party." 5. Importune.

ALLIED DETERMINATION

Richmond Times-Dispatch

The Allies have the advantage of experience in combatting the new techniques of the Germans, and they have enormous determination. The British and the French are never more formidable than when they are in what appears to be the last ditch. Undoubtedly they have no thought of surrender, and they intend to win in the end, by wearing Germany down. If they can hold out until November, they can probably do it, but the next six months are certain to be an ordeal for all of us.

may make twelve monthly payments of $9.46 each. When you borrow at Household Finance, you pay charges only for the actual time you have the money. The sooner you repay, the less your loan costs. The payments shown in the table, when made on schedule, include all charges. You pay nothing more.

No credit questions are asked of your friends or relatives—and you don't have to ask friends, employer or fellow-workers to sign the loan papers with you. You get your loan on your own responsibility—without delay and without embarrassment.

Fair treatment

In a case of sickness or unemployment, while paying on a loan, Household shows the borrower every consideration. During the past seven years Household has made over 225,000 loans to Canadians amounting to over $38,000,000 and in not a single instance foreclosed a mortgage or garnished a wage cheque.

Find the amount you need in the first column of the table and choose the monthly payment which you can conveniently make. See how you can repay your loan on the schedule which best fits your monthly income. Then phone or visit us. You will be under no obligation to borrow.

Barbo Features In Auto Racing

"As fine an exhibition of driving that has ever been seen here," automobile racing fans agreed after seeing Chic Barbo of Portland throttle the No. 70 car to a thrilling win in the 30-lap main event on Langford Speedway's big-car program Saturday night.

The event wound up the most successful meet of the season. From start to finish the customers were treated to good driving in breath-taking contests. Events were run off quickly.

Five American cars and six locals started the show. Ten of them started the main event. Barbo started the evening in No. 27, which he drove to victory in the 20-lap main event at Langford two weeks ago. After taking his time trial in 19 seconds, the car broke an oil line and was out of the running for the races.

Barbo took over the No. 70 car which Ralph Taylor of Tacoma was to have driven. He started sixth in the main and moved to third by the sixth lap. He was held in third spot by Lou McMurry of Seattle in a new No. 6 car and Buddy Green of Victoria in No. 23, until the 16th lap. Then he went around McMurry and shot past Green to take over the No. 1 position which he held for the rest of the contest.

Green, who ran on three pistons, broke down in the first race on the program—finished the race, third with McMurry second. In fourth was Digger Caldwell of Victoria in his handsome No. 1 car who started the race last.

In addition to the daring driving, the customers thrilled to a crack-up and three spins during the race.

TEARS DOWN FENCE

On the 24th lap, McMurry was lapping Don Vantreight of Victoria in No. 3. Vantreight went a little wide on the south turn and as he did so, McMurry made a dive for the inside. The local boy pulled back and McMurry smacked into him. McMurry's car leaped in the air but he brought it back to earth all right. Vantreight skidded to the outside of the track, tearing down 20 feet of the board fence before coming to a stop. He was not hurt.

At the start of the race, on the second lap, Seth Renning of Portland in No. 5, skidded on the same turn with the field bunched around him. Jerry Vantreight of Victoria in Jack Spaulding's 31 car and George White of Victoria, in No. 7, followed suit in trying to get out of his way. The track was cleared, Renning started his car again, and the race resumed.

Barbo also won the second heat race of five laps. He started third with Green and Vantreight in front of him. The Portland driver took over the lead on the third lap after fighting it out with the two leaders for two laps. Green was second, Vantreight third and Caldwell fourth.

Renning won the Helmet Dash. He started the three-lap event on the pole and kept Green and McMurry behind.

Renning also won the first heat race after starting on the pole again. All four cars in the race finished close. McMurry was second, Green third and Jerry Vantreight fourth.

Jerry won the third heat race over Caldwell, Bill Scott of Seattle in No. 62 and George White.

West and United Draw in Dogfight

There certainly wasn't much good football displayed when Victoria West and Victoria United soccer eleven's clashed at Beacon Hill Park Saturday in the local final of the Dominion Cup series and finished a two-hour battle in a two to two draw, which necessitates a replay.

As Pat Mulcahy put it, it was more of a dogfight than a soccer game. There was bad feeling between the outfits. The result was that the man was played a good deal rather than the ball. Late in first-half play Roy Barnes and Fred Williams exchanged blows and were ordered off the field by referee Dave McMillan.

West, who played a spilling game, just failed to bag a victory in the overtime when Roy Okell's penalty shot was well-handled by Bobby Moss, United goalie.

The game was played under a hot sun, and after 120 minutes of play there was a score of very tired players.

In the first-half play the Wests took over a 2 to 0 lead, when little Johnny Munroe's high shot was misjudged by Moss and found the goalmouth. Alex Dallimore's shot rebounded off fullback Arnie Wilkinson and found the hump.

In the second 45 minutes the United crew under Dr. Arthur Poyntz applied plenty of pressure, and while Tommy Restell turned in a great exhibition in the

REVELLERS PLAY SOFTBALL GAME

Members of the Revellers' Players Club went out to Beacon Hill Park bright and early yesterday morning for a bit of a tussle on the softball diamond which resulted in a 15 to 7 win for Tommy Stevenson's team over Hank Rowe's lads.

It was a nip and tuck after five innings, at the end of which Rowe's team led 7 to 6. In the sixth Rowe's pitcher Lloyd Baker, went haywire and walked his first three men.

From then on the team was hopelessly lost. Stevenson's boys started smacking them all over the lot, and before anyone realized it, the score stood at 13 to 7.

"They can't do that to us," Rowe told his players in a pep talk before starting the last innig. "Let's go get 'em."

Rowe's first three batters struck out. Stevenson's boys went to the plate and scored two more runs for the final score. Al Wright of the winners, hit the only circuit drive of the game.

Pitchers for the winners were Sid Anderson, Harry Barber and Wright.

Some of the pitchers for the losers—there were so many of them—were Captain Rowe, Brent Murdoch, Frank Harris, Bill Gornall and Baker.

George Deacon, coach of the Revellers football club, played in the outfield for the winners.

Lee Orr Wins In Record Time

PRINCETON, N.J. (CP)—Fred Wolcott of Rice University won two victories, one with a world record-bettering performance, in the seventh annual Princeton invitation track meet Saturday.

Wolcott skinned the 220-yard low hurdles in 22.5 seconds, bettering the recognized world record of 22.6 set by Jesse Owens of Ohio State in 1935. He also was timed in 22.3 at the 200 metre mark, surpassing Owens' 22.6 record.

In the 120-highs, he was timed in 13.9. This bettered the meet record of 14.3 and also the recognized United States record of 14 seconds established by R. D. Osgood of Michigan in 1937.

Lee Orr of Washington State, the Vancouver speedster who ran for Canada in the 1936 Olympic games, came through with a 46.8 performance in the 440-yard run. He bettered the meet record of 47.1 which was set in 1936.

Bill Dale of Victoria, another member of Washington State, ran fifth in the half mile. It was the first defeat suffered by Dale this season.

Many Features For Berry Week

Saanich Strawberry Week started Saturday and by the end of this week people of Greater Victoria will be enjoying a variety of features that have been arranged by the Saanich Board of Trade and the tourist trade group of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, sponsors of the event.

Special displays of berries grown in the district in local store windows and in theatres, a big parade, coronation of the Strawberry Queen and a grand ball, make up the festivities.

Today Saanich strawberries were featured on menus of cafes in the city and many stores featured window displays of the luscious fruit.

The Saanich Fruit Growers' Association has arranged to have a display of prize berries on exhibit each day next week, afternoon and evening, as follows: Today, Capitol Theatre; tomorrow, Dominion Theatre; Wednesday, Atlas Theatre; Thursday, Kirkham and Company; Friday, David Spencer Limited; Saturday, Hudson's Bay Company.

Of the berries on sale in city stores each day, a certain hallock will contain a lucky number and the purchaser of the hallock will receive six crates of berries.

Queen of the week will be named tonight when ballots are counted. Candidates are Miss Florence Edwards, Mount Douglas High School; Miss Norma Polson, Mount Newton High School, and Miss Marjorie Wood, Mount View High School.

"Thank God for the Salvation Army"

Twenty-three years ago a young soldier in the Canadian army wrote this letter. Whether he be alive or not today, we cannot say. But his letter was published in the Army's paper of that date and it tells the mothers and fathers of Canada something they want to know.

WHEN in the present war, your boy comes to any of the big cities on leave, foot-loose after weeks, perhaps months, in the front line, though he lack other welcome, the Army's hand will be outstretched. If he needs a place to sleep, there'll be a clean comfortable bed in the Army hostel. If he be hungry and thirsty there will be food and drink. And though "sharks" wait to trap him body and soul, he will be safe!

Well may fathers and mothers with boys destined for service overseas say, as this boy said in his letter 23 years ago, "Thank God for the Salvation Army."

HELP THEM TO TAKE CARE OF THESE BOYS

Without preaching or scolding, the Salvation Army acted as a good friend to the boys at the front in the last war, and plans to do no less in the present war. It aims to serve these boys from Canada as their own

I'm off to the trenches but must drop you a line to thank you for your care of me when I arrived at London that midnight. There were sharks all around me as soon as I stepped from the station, but the sight of your caps and your cheery "Come along lad, come along with me for the night," spelt safety for me. I'll thank no one in London. Thank God for the Salvation Army.

mothers and fathers would serve them if they could—darn their socks or provide new ones . . . mend their clothes . . . advise and counsel them in their personal problems . . . afford them refreshment, recreation and Christian kindness amid the harsh realities of war.

BUT MONEY IS NEEDED

Chaplain Service, Hostels, "Dry" Canteens, Rest Rooms, Reading and Writing Rooms and all the manifold services included in the Red Shield programme cost money—more money than the normal peace-time revenue of the Salvation Army can provide. The regular work in Canada calls for attention too, and must not be neglected. It is for this extra burden—at the front and at home—that they ask support, confident they will not ask in vain. Volunteer workers will call upon you. Receive them kindly as they deserve and give as your heart dictates.

Footlight Frolics At Royal June 28

Another sparkling Footlight Frolics production is billed for June 28 at the Royal Victoria Theatre.

With a full orchestra in the pit and one of the largest companies of talented performers assembled on a stage here in many years, patrons are assured of an evening of brilliant entertainment. Many of the dance episodes are under the direction of Wynne Shaw, well-known for her work in this province, especially with young performers.

Miss Shaw, who has had the advantage of study with such celebrities as Lee Foley, Adolph Bolm and Reade Maclean, is an experienced producer of entertainment hits.

One of her novel numbers, comprised entirely of the younger members of the Russian Ballet School, will have as its setting a vari-hued fairy land. The theme of this delightful arrangement will be that of the forlorn little match girl who is transported by a fairy to the land of sprites and elves. A lively item will be La Jota, a Spanish street dance with the brilliant costumes, castanets and gay rhythms of Old Spain. An innovation will be introduced into the ever popular romance of Chopin ballet, when instead of the traditional white tutu, drapes of purple and cerise will be used for the grandiose mazurka, the sombre nocturne and the whirling waltz.

Canned tomatoes can be greatly improved in firmness by adding a tiny amount of calcium chloride, chemists report.

Red Cross Store Business Brisk

During the past 10 days business has shown a great improvement in every department of the Red Cross Superfluties Store, 1220 Government Street. Sales have been brisk and many cash donations have been received for the society.

Donations of goods to the store have been many and varied and have included some fine pieces of furniture. Outstanding among these recent gifts were two old tallboys, in perfect condition,

B. A. TOBIN HOME

Brian A. Tobin, former Victorian, who was in Europe at the outbreak of war, returned to Victoria Saturday to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Tobin, St. Andrew's Street.

Mr. Tobin is now attached to the staff of the British United Press in Vancouver.

When war started last September he was in Geneva and had intended to return to Berlin to accept a position. He left Germany in mid-August and spent some weeks also in Italy.

"When last I was in Germany certainly the average person didn't want war," he said today. "There was no enthusiasm, except in the newspapers."

"The Italian people were more against war than the Germans, and Mussolini was having a hard time whipping up war fever. After all, English tourists have been popular in Italy and German coupons are not of much use to the Italians."

War emphasizes the importance of life insurance

● To the individual, whether he serves on the fighting front or the home front, life insurance continues to guarantee financial security for his family and himself. It means that his loved ones are protected and will be supported in time of need. It means that he will have money for emergencies, and a nest-egg to provide for his own old age.

● To the nation, life insurance funds, representing the savings of thrifty policyholders, are providing millions of dollars so necessary for the development of Canada. These funds, invested in the resources of our country, are thus mobilized for the benefit of the whole nation.

In war time as in peace, life insurance stands for individual and national security.

Miss Margaret Russell presided at the organ, and the soloist was Mrs. B. Noel, who sang "I Love You Truly" as the register was being signed.

The bride, who was given away by her father, wore her mother's wedding gown of ivory starched lace, and veil of embroidered net arranged with clusters of orange blossom, and she carried a colonial posy of pink and white sweet peas, roses and carnations. ## Pioneer Celebrates Her Birthday

Mrs. Hannah Wall, pioneer resident of Victoria, last Friday celebrated her 86th birthday at White Rock, B.C., where she now resides. In excellent health, with a remarkable memory, Mrs. Wall enjoyed the day with relatives and friends and reminisced of early days in Victoria.

Born in San Francisco June 7, 1854, Mrs. Wall arrived in Victoria in June, 1858, on the sailing ship Norman Morrison with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony, and her two brothers, Tony and Jack and Hannah Elliott. When the family first reached Victoria they lived in a tent on land between Douglas and Blanshard, not far from the fort.

"Around the tent my father built a rough wooden fence to keep the Indians out, as we were awfully afraid of them," writes Mrs. Wall in an interesting letter to the Times. "The fence was rough because there were no mills in Victoria then, only one at Sooke and a very poor one at that, no planing done at all. Planing in buildings and stores had to be done by hand."

A FINE HOME

Mrs. Wall's father brought lumber from California with him and so the Anthony home was the first house built in Victoria of fine, completely finished materials.

In her letter Mrs. Wall recalls the Thain family home, at the corner of Blanshard and Fisgard. She says it was more pretentious than her own home, but not any more solid.

"Our house was on Johnson Street," she says. "Mr. Jones, an early photographer, bought my parents' place, which ran from Cook to Johnson to a line with Chambers, as it is now called, and moved our house back and built a two-story house in front of it and this, I believe, is still standing."

The earliest schools in Victoria were St. Ann's for girls, situated on the ground where the Bishop's Palace now stands on View Street, and St. Louis College on Pandora Avenue. They were built at first of lumber from the Sooke mill, and my brother and I went to these schools as far back as 1860. "I could go ahead telling you many things about the early days, for I have all my faculties and a wonderful memory. Dr. Lamb wanted me to write a book for the Archives—perhaps I may yet."

Florence Clough Dance Revue

The date set this year for the dance revue of the Florence Clough Dance Academy is June 21 at the Royal Victoria Theatre. One of Victoria's annual summer theatre attractions, it has gained each year in popularity. Each year the dance trend is faithfully presented and this revue is especially stamped with the change that has been gradually developing in dance taste.

This change is most marked in the predominance of ballet over tap and where it has not replaced it entirely the tap numbers are developed to include much ballet technique and dramatic effect. As a result grace and beauty of movement, as never before, accompany all jazz syncopation.

As many of the pupils taking part have studied with Miss Clough since they were tots much finished technique is seen throughout the program which in its diversity presents beautiful ballets, syncopations, acrobatic and interpretive numbers.

LAKE HILL-RED CROSS

Under the auspices of the Lake Hill Red Cross Unit a silver tea will be held in the beautiful grounds, kindly lent by Mrs. R. H. Snape, 1140 Tattersall Drive, Wednesday afternoon, from 3 to 6. There will be home cooking, candy and home produce stalls, also a "Corner Store."

'Y' Girls Hostesses To Men of Forces

Senior Club girls of the Y.W.C.A. to the number of about 35 visited the Y.M.C.A. recreation hut at Macaulay Point on Friday evening to stage one of their series of entertainments for the men of the forces.

An enjoyable program of skits and music was followed by dancing to the strains of an orchestra. About 200 men and their friends were present and thoroughly enjoyed the gay evening, which was arranged under the joint direction of Rev. J. Herdman, who has charge of the hut, and Miss Dorothy Beech, girls' secretary of the Y.W.C.A.

Yesterday afternoon the Senior Club girls of the "Y" arranged an outing to Butchart Gardens for the men, nearly 40 of whom were conveyed in cars kindly loaned and driven by private owners.

On their return from the gardens the men were entertained at high tea at the Y.W.C.A., when assisting in serving were the Misses Anne Adamson, Marjorie Harris, Dorothy Spencer, Winnie Graham and Kitty Cameron. After a bounteous tea, the men were entertained with a musical program to which songs were contributed by Miss Elaine Basanta, piano solos by Miss Ursula Hills and selections by Mrs. Camasus's mandolin trio.

Joined with Mrs. W. J. Jones playing the accompaniments. Refreshments were served by Mrs. W. P. Rankin, Misses Beatrice Jones, Phyllis Parker, Sheila Hocking and Audrey Bridgdon. Others present were Mr. and Mrs. David Lehman, Mr. and Mrs. L. Butt, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. V. Simpson, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cochran, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Rankin, Mr. and Mrs. W. Duval, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Grant, Mrs. S. Jones, Misses Elsie Jones, Addie Jones and Eva Jones and Messrs. Clare Butt and Harold Robinson.

A double wedding celebration was held on Saturday evening at the home of Mr. Arthur Davies, 923 Hampshire Road, one being the 25th anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. W. Davies, 680 Burnside Road, the other the 10th anniversary, which fell on Friday, June 7, of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil W. Davies, 213 Denison Avenue. The reception rooms were decked with flowers sent with congratulatory messages, and the evening was given up to games. Supper was served from a table centered with a bowl of snapdragons and atolls, a two-tier cream cake, adorned with satin ribbons suitably inscribed, occupying the place of honor.

Presentations were made of a beautiful glass and silver inlay flower bowl to Mr. and Mrs. Davies and of a flour bin containing a smaller glass and silver bowl to Mr. and Mrs. Cecil W. Davies, together with corsage bouquets for the former brides, from the assembled guests, which included Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Meale and Eric Jr., Noreen and Joyce Meale (of East Helena, Mont.), Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Davies, Mr. and Mrs. L. Cox, Mrs. Lorimer and Miss Joan Lorimer, Mr. and Mrs. J. Hedley, Miss Joy Hedley, Mr. Albert Davies, Mr. Arthur Davies Jr., Mr. Arthur Davies Jr., J. Battick, Mrs. W. Saunders, Miss Dorothy Battick, Miss Margaret Davies and Mr. Clarence W. Davies Jr.

Gracie Fields to Tour Canada

HALIFAX (CP) — A regimental band serenaded Gracie Fields when the English comedienne arrived Saturday on her way to Montreal, where she will begin her first tour of Canada in aid of Britain's servicemen.

"I'm here to collect some money for the lads—to help make things better for them," Miss Fields said as the band played tunes she has made famous. Miss Fields, travelling with her husband, Monty Banks, English film director, said she did not know how long she would stay in Canada. The tour is under auspices of the Navy League.

Although "Roll Out the Barrel" has become almost a theme song of British and Canadian troops, the first time Miss Fields sang the song was during her trans-Atlantic trip. She spoke proudly of the concert group she organized aboard ship from the 60-odd children who made the crossing.

Several children disembarked here. While she talked to reporters she patted them on the head as they passed down the gangplank.

The English star recently finished a tour of the war area in France, giving performances for the troops. She recalled that the hotel where she stayed in Arras had been bombed by the Germans seven days after she left.

When told French planes had bombed factories in the suburbs of Berlin, she said, "good, I'd like to have a squad of planes myself and bomb the hell out of them."

CLOVERDALE RED CROSS

Plans for the silver tea to be held in the schoolroom of the Douglas Street Baptist Church, terminus of the Cloverdale carline, on Thursday, June 13, from 3 to 5.30 are well under way by the Cloverdale Red Cross Unit.

During the afternoon, Brig. Gen. J. G. Austin and Mrs. Alfred Carmichael will speak briefly. A musical program also has been arranged. Mrs. Gibbs is convener of teas and Mrs. W. T. Colbourne of the home-cooking stall. All donations will be most welcome.

Weddings

BISHOP—MAYRON

A marriage was solemnized quietly on Friday afternoon at St. Paul's Naval and Garrison Church, when Mrs. Lillian H. Mayron, formerly of Halifax, Nova Scotia, and Lt. Col. C. Vivian Bishop, formerly of Ottawa, were united in marriage by Capt. Rev. Alan Gardiner, the witnesses to the ceremony being Brig. C. V. Stockwell and Mrs. Stockwell and Capt. and Mrs. A. J. L. Pritchard. Lt. Col. Bishop and Mrs. Bishop are residing at the Tweedsmuir Apartments.

PACEY—EVANS

Of interest to the many Victoria friends of the bride, who formerly resided here with her parents, was the marriage solemnized by Rev. E. F. Church at Chown Memorial Church, Vancouver, on June 5, between William Richard Lincoln Pacey, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. William Joshua Lincoln Pacey, 5975 Larch Street, Vancouver, and Marian Evans, daughter of Capt. and Mrs. Leighton Evans, 3582 W. 38th Avenue, Vancouver. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a French model suit of peacock-blue. There were no attendants. Mr. and Mrs. Pacey left by motor for a honeymoon to California.

Clubwomen's News

Daughters of St. George, Victoria Lodge, members going to Sanford on Tuesday will meet at 11 a.m. at the Blue Line Office, Yates Street.

St. Aidan's Ladies' Guild met recently at the home of the president, Mrs. C. F. Dawson, Cedar Hill Road. Plans were made to hold a garden party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul McClung, "Island View," Gordon Head, on June 19 from 3 to 6.

The Women's Auxiliary to the Tuberculous Veterans held a very delightful silver tea in the clubrooms, 812 Blanshard Street, on Thursday afternoon. The billiard table was centred with a bowl of red, white and blue flowers, and the small tables were similarly decorated.

St. Alban's Ladies' Guild met recently when plans were made for the annual church garden fête on June 26. A 500 card party will be held on Wednesday at 8 p.m.

The closing meeting of the Tuckabatchee Club will be held tomorrow evening at 8 at the home of Miss Marion Stevenson, instead of the home of Mrs. McGill as previously announced.

On Wednesday afternoon the Women's Association, Victoria West United Church, will hold their annual summer festival in the social hall of the church. Commencing at 3, with Mrs. George Guy as general convener, there will be stalls of plain and fancy sewing, home cooking, strawberries and cream and ice cream. Tea will be served from 3 to 5, and supper at 6. There will be a musical program during the afternoon.

At the monthly meeting of the W.A. to the P.P.C.L.I. to be held this evening at the home of the president, Mrs. Sidney Mitchell, Central Avenue, Mrs. Mitchell will hand in her resignation as president owing to her removal to Winnipeg at the end of this month. Automatically, Mrs. W. H. Wood, first vice-president, will succeed Mrs. Mitchell, who has been president of the W.A. since its formation some 16 months ago.

A large number of members and friends attended the garden party which Queen City Chapter, No. 5, O.E.S., held recently at the home of Mrs. M. H. Austin, William Street, and a substantial sum was raised. Miss Harriet Edwards, worthy matron, welcomed the guests and Mrs. Rose Mains, grand electa of the Grand Chapter of British Columbia, of Duncan, B.C., opened the affair and on behalf of the chapter was presented with a gift by little Betty Stadel. Mrs. Norman Wardell and Miss May Sims were the general conveners. In the evening, bridge was played, arranged by Mrs. J. Birnie and Mr. Wm. Craigmyle.

Saanich Welfare organization held its regular monthly meeting on Thursday afternoon, Mrs. W. Foster, president, in the chair. The secretary-treasurer, Mrs. M. Hollins, presented a comprehensive report, together with financial statement for previous month, which was approved. Delegates were appointed to a special committee of the Council of Social Agencies. Much credit was given two members of the committee who had given much of their time in the making of patchwork quilts from oddments donated. The next meeting will take the form of a picnic to be held at the Gorge tea gardens on July 2.

Members of the Victoria Housewives League met on Friday at 301 Union Building. The convener of the research committee, Miss D. Ashdown reported continued effort to probe reasons for increased prices. According to figures from the organized milk producers, the dairy farmers average returns amount to 14.3 cents per cow per day, before feed bills are met, so the producers' share of the price of butter-fat is small. Increases in price of onions and cheese were also discussed. Victoria versus Vancouver prices came in for comment, and the meeting felt that the difference in freight rates and other charges did not justify the price policy adopted locally. The secretary was asked to contact the Victoria Retail Merchants Association on the matter. Five cases of increased prices were reported, and particulars were referred to the Trades and Labor Council to be passed on to the Victoria Real Estate Board. "A Desirable Standard of Living for Canadians" was the subject of a talk by Mrs. K. McAllister, heard with great interest. The president extended a welcome to new members present, and appealed to Victoria housewives to join the league and so support the work being carried on to combat undue rises in prices, and to preserve Canadian standards of living.

Assembly No. 5, Canadian Daughters' League met Thursday night in the Shrine Hall with Mrs. C. Jasper in the chair. A cash donation was voted to the Tuberculous Veterans' tag day. Plans were made by the sewing group to make quilts for refugees during the summer months and the president asked all members to collect suitable material (not necessarily new) for same, to be turned in at the next meeting. It was suggested that tops of men's socks make excellent quilts. Final arrangements were made for the tea Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. T. Jones, 1016 Bewdley Avenue, Esquimalt. Private cars will meet the Esquimalt street-car at Lamson Street between 3 and 3.30. Mrs. N. Taylor announced that all tickets for the bedspread must be turned in at the next meeting. Group 2, under the convenship of Mrs. M. Jones, will have charge of the closing social evening, June 20.

The W.A. Britannia Branch No. 7, Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L., will hold their regular meeting tomorrow evening at 8 in the boardroom. Owing to unforeseen circumstances, the strawberry tea scheduled to be held at the home of Mrs. M. Kendrew, 220 Irving Road, on Wednesday, has been changed, and will instead be held at the home of Mrs. G. Ree, 179 Bushby Street, at 2.30 p.m. the same date. There will be various attractions, to be followed by a card social in the evening at 8.

Mrs. Bernard Lefevre, accompanied by Miss Estelle Clark, sang "There's a Land" and "Land of Hope and Glory," the guests joining in the chorus of the latter. In the evening cards were played, and the following were the recipients of the prizes: Ladies, Mrs. Standerwick, Mrs. Smiri and consolation, Mrs. Ripley; gentlemen's, Mrs. Brien, Miss Warden and consolation, Mrs. Clark. The recipient of the chicken dinner was Mrs. Cave. The next meeting will be held at the home of the president, Mrs. D. W. Burnett, East Saanich Road, on Thursday, June 13, the bus leaving the depot at 1.05.

He Bought the Most Expensive Suits

but—

HIS TAILOR HATED TO FIT HIM... MR. R... WAS A WARM-WEATHER OFFENDER

MONEY?... Mr. R... had plenty of it!... A good-looking man, too... But his tailor, and others who got close to him, could have told him he was becoming a "Warm-Weather Offender." Why that's impossible, he thought. Everybody—even you—has to perspire from a pint to three pints daily even when sitting still. If you let this sweat dry out on the body, under the armpits, around the waist, it goes stale—decomposes... Then YOU have "B.O."

The red part of "B.O." is that you may be offending others and never know it! Why not play safe with Lifebuoy? For Lifebuoy contains an exclusive deodorizing ingredient not found in any other leading toilet soap. Used in your daily bath, Lifebuoy stops "B.O.", its rich, creamy lather washes stale perspiration deposits away. And Lifebuoy keeps you up, invigorates... assures personal cleanliness.

SCIENTIFIC FACTS ABOUT B.O.

The adult skin has 2 to 3 million sweat glands which act as a cooling system, giving off from 1 to 3 pints of perspiration daily—even when we are sitting still. If perspiration stopped, we would die from hyperpyrexia (fever stroke). Because much of the water in perspiration evaporates, we do not see or feel it. Summer heat, nervous excitement, heavy clothes or warm rooms quickly decompose this sweat deposit—turn it stale—cause offensive "B.O." (Body Odor).

Campbell, Lansdowne Road, left today to spend the summer months in eastern Canada. Miss Campbell will visit friends in Toronto for a couple of months, and Col. and Mrs. Fortt and their daughter will visit in Montreal and Kingston before journeying to St. Patrick, Quebec, to spend the summer at the country home of Mrs. Fortt's mother, Mrs. E. G. Meredith. En route they will pick up the only son, Pilot Officer E. W. R. Fortt, R.C.A.F., who has been in training in eastern Canada, and accompany him to the Atlantic coast. They will drive back to Victoria at the end of September through the United States.

Miss Ellen Tickle was hostess at a miscellaneous shower recently at her home, 81 San Jose Avenue, in honor of her cousin, Miss Alma Jenkinson, whose marriage to Mr. Harold Fielden will take place in Duncan on June 14. On her arrival the bride-to-be was presented with a corsage bouquet of carnations and sweet peas by little Miss Florence Tickle. The gifts were concealed in a pink and white basket, which colors also predominated in decoration of the room. During the evening games were enjoyed, prizes being won by Mrs. G. Rawlinson, Mrs. C. M. Dorothy Cox's Dance Display Screamingly funny mime, graceful interpretive dancing, colorful costumes, special scenery and lighting should make Dorothy Cox's dance display at the Empire Theatre on Friday, June 14, one of the outstanding entertainments of the season.

"The Burglar's Dream" is one of the many original ideas. A burglar robs a wealthy couple coming home from the theatre and later the jewels haunt him in his dreams.

Little tots will be seen in "The Nursery Masquerade," a colorful display of golliwogs, rag dolls, teddy bears, etc., brought to life by "a fairy" (Dorothy Cox), an outstanding dancer for her age.

TAKE ALONG A TIE OF MECCA ON HOLIDAYS
Don't let Sydney, Windsor, Polon, etc., Mecca (outfit) is almost magical in looking and feeling skin irritation.

General Odlum Inspects Second Division He Will Command Overseas

Major-General Victor Odlum inspected the troops at Camp Borden last Friday and got acquainted with the men of the Second Division C.A.S.F. he is to take overseas. The general spent the day in earnest conference with officers. He trudged through sandy fields with the men on various manoeuvres, criticizing and advising as he inspected closely every operation. Left, General Odlum chats with Lance-Corporal Arthur Rogers of the Royal Hamilton Light Infantry, still keeping a critical eye on the operations being carried on around him. At right, surrounded by officers of the same regiment, he points to a machine-gun emplacement nearby and gives some instructions on its proper operation.

These men of the French Air Force are pictured loading bombs into one of their big bombing planes at an airfield somewhere near the front lines, as they prepare for another foray against Nazi concentrations. In the early stages of the "Battle of France," signalling the German main drive against Paris, French bombers were credited with outstanding successes against invading tanks, which are most vulnerable to attack from above.

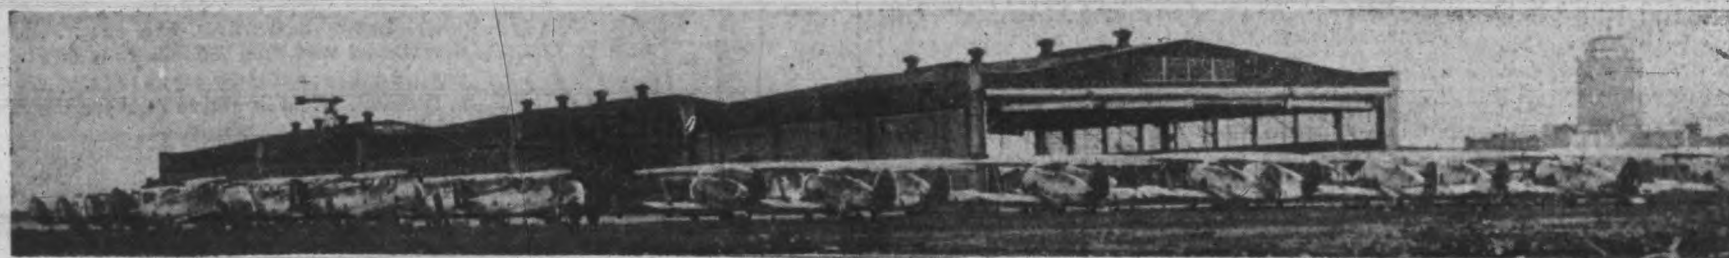

Visiting an arms factory, King George is interested in a battered rifle that played a part in the now-famous battle of Flanders. The rifle, brought back by its owner of the British Expeditionary Force, was sent to the factory for reconditioning.

The horror of the Nazi "blitzkrieg" attack may be seen in this picture of what was once an apartment house in northern France. Now only the door stands. Photo by clipper to New York.

British labor, which for years enjoyed short hours and frequent holidays while German workers strove without let-up to build the Nazi war machine, is now being pressed into ceaseless labor in an 11th-hour effort to catch up. In many essential British war industries they work 12 hours a day, seven days a week, on a day and night schedule. Above, a newly-received photo shows ordnance factory workers finishing gun barrels.

Delivery of 1,000 first-line Scout bombers to the Allies was government's "all aid short of war" policy. An administration spokesman said the Allies would pay enough for the aircraft to permit the U.S. to get more modern replacements from the manufacturers at no further expense. He implied the Allies would pay more for the planes than the United States government paid.

More than 50 U.S. navy reserve airplanes were overhauled under heavy guard at the Buffalo municipal airport above. Officials awaited an additional 40 dive bombers destined for Allied war service. These planes are now on their way to Britain.

Ready When Called, Say Nursing Sisters

Thrilled by the self-sacrificing valor of British nurses at Dunkerque, nursing sisters of a hospital unit in Toronto parade in full "war kit." Their British sisters faced enemy guns in the evacuation from Flanders but no thought of the drama the future may hold dims the brightness of these smiles. Left to right here are Nursing Sisters Drena Birkett and Doris Horton.

Dunkerque 'Angels' Rewarded by Queen's Smile

On the flaming, bomb-scarred sands of Dunkerque, these and other British nurses stayed to the very end, caring for the wounded Tommies and comforting the dying. Some of their comrades nurses died and some were wounded. These "angels," even set up emergency first aid stations in bomb-craters. Forgetting the horrors, the nurses were in high spirits when the Queen paid them a visit.

APPOINTED BY ROOSEVELT—William S. Knudsen, president of General Motors Corp., is one of a board of seven appointed by President Roosevelt to supervise the $1,000,000,000 defence program of the U.S. He will be in charge of industrial production and chairman of the board.

Catharine Beatty, one of the many Canadian girls enrolled in the Women's Auxiliary Mechanical Services across the country, tries her hands at controlling an army tractor from the driver's seat. The girls are learning everything that is to be learned about all types of mechanized army vehicles and ordinary automobiles. The girls are required to pass a rigid test before they're declared ready for service overseas.

Satko's Ark at Prince Rupert

PRINCE RUPERT (CP)—Paul Satko, jobless machinist from Richmond, Va., marked a victory over the treacherous tides and winds of the British Columbia coast yesterday when he guided his stubby, home-built boat into Prince Rupert harbor.

Satko, traveling to Alaska with his wife and seven children, arrived here 15 days after leaving Anacortes, Wash. He plans to continue Monday or Tuesday to Ketchikan, Alaska, 85 miles farther north.

More than 500 miles of tortuous coastline lie behind the Satkos and Alaskan waters are only 30 miles away. At Ketchikan they will decide the site of the new home they are hoping to establish, with the probable choice Cook's Inlet.

"We haven't been lost since we started," said Satko, who made the voyage despite the warnings of experienced coastwise mariners. "I was always able to identify my position by charts or by local consultations from place to place. The trip was uneventful."

As far as the sun-browned, cheerful Satko children were concerned, the most exciting episode of the trip occurred Friday night at Bishop Cove, near Butedale, B.C., when they discovered a bear and two cubs ashore and rushed into the water fearing they would be attacked.

Satko said the only rough weather encountered on the voyage was shortly after leaving Nanaimo, and again when crossing Queen Charlotte Sound between the northern tip of Vancouver Island and the mainland. Everyone, he said, was seasick, but there was no alarm.

Although the high-powered "Ark" is powered by a 13-year-old automobile engine, there was only one case of mechanical trouble. Two days ago an engine bearing burned out and Satko had to limp into Swanson Bay to make repairs.

Around the Docks

Minister to Launch Forestry Cruiser

Hon. Kenneth C. MacDonald, Minister of Agriculture, will sponsor the new forestry patrol cruiser Swift II which will be launched from the building ways at the Armstrong Bros. plant in the Inner Harbor at 4 this afternoon.

The craft was built to the order of the B.C. Forestry Department and is one of the most modern vessels of her type, staunchly built and powerfully engined.

When the cruiser slips down the ways this afternoon she will immediately go on her trials in the harbor. Later she will make a shake-down cruise to Ocean Falls.

He is said to be progressing favorably, according to reports received at the B.C. coast offices.

Engineer Operated On

Frank D. McKechnie, second engineer of Ss. Princess Norah, returning to Victoria from the west coast of Vancouver Island, was removed from the ship at Port Alberni Friday to undergo an emergency operation for ruptured stomach ulcers in the west coast hospital.

He is said to be progressing favorably, according to reports received at the B.C. coast offices.

Lady Royal Shifts

The ketch-rigged auxiliary Lady Royal, which has been lying at the Enterprise Wharf in the Inner Harbor all winter, was sailed around to the Royal Victoria Yacht Club anchorage at Cadboro Bay over the weekend.

The historic vessel, which was formerly owned by Brother XII at Cedar-by-the-Sea, is owned by Leslie Nantess of Victoria, who has rebuilt her.

The Lady Royal will go to Cowichan Bay for the P.I.A. regatta and will later make a cruise around Vancouver Island.

U.S. Yacht Visits

The pleasure cruiser Nina III, owned by Stanley J. Barrows, commodore of the St. Francis Yacht Club, San Francisco, after putting in at the Royal-Victoria Yacht Club, cleared over the weekend on a cruise of the British Columbia coast and Alaska.

Mr. Barrows and his party plan to go as far north as Ketchikan and may return here on the southward trip.

Leave for East

J. H. and A. R. Alexander, members of the Royal Victoria Yacht Club and owners of the sloop We-Two, have left for the east and may be away from the c'y indefinitely.

The We-Two was sailed yesterday by Major J. C. Cooke in the absence of the owners.

Boats Failed to Finish Cup Race

The Virtue Cup race for auxiliary cruisers was called off yesterday when the eight entrants failed because of lack of wind to complete the course within the time limit.

The boats entering were: Cutter Richmond II, Rear-Commodore F. C. Holden; sloop Laingona, Fleet Captain R. V. James; Shantigal, Commodore E. P. Ashe; ketch Chirra, Capt. R. S. Johnson; sloop We-Two, Major J. C. Cooke; ketch Ianthe, C. Percival; yawl Minto, G. Campbell; and sloop Davaar, N. P. Blandy.

Sailing a course from a boat moored in the bay off the R.V.Y.C. clubhouse to Heian Bank and return, a distance of 24 miles, the auxiliaries were slow in bucking tides on the run-out and in dead calm experienced trouble in rounding Heian Bank.

The skippers had the option of sailing either way around the bank, but gained little advantage in the spotty wind.

Starting at 10 a.m., the boats drifted in about an hour after the time limit, set for 8 p.m.

On patrol were the cruisers Lucy D., Harold M. Diggon, and Thora, Dr. B. E. Nickells.

F. N. D. Robertson was officer of the day. Ben Temple started and James Cameron timekeeper.

The race will be run off at a later date.

SATURDAY'S MATINEE

Stars, dinghies, tycoons and snipes were in action Saturday afternoon with Aquila, Penguin, Tycoon and Klatwa finishing first in their respective classes.

Cash finishes were furnished by the Klatwa and Penguin, in the snipe and dinghy classes, the former nosing out the Klatwa by one second, and the latter beating Kismet by 11 seconds.

The course was quadrilateral, from the club dolphin to Paterson Point, Flower Island, Cadboro Bay beach mark and back to starting line.

Stars, dinghies and snipes sailed the course twice, and the tycoons once.

The stars got away at 3 p.m., with dinghies, snipes and tycoons starting at five-minute intervals.

ATTEMPT TO SINK OLD U.S.S. OREGON

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Someone with a knowledge of warcraft attempted Saturday night to sink the 44-year-old battleship Oregon, veteran of the Spanish-American War now enshrined in a marine park here.

By the time custodians discovered an open seacock in the port shaft alley, the ship had taken in 600 tons of water and settled 24 inches by the stern. The heavy load of water raised her bow 18 inches out of the water.

Mayor Joseph K. Carson ordered a complete investigation after being assured by Thomas V. Prideo, assistant custodian, that the apparent saboteur could only have been a man thoroughly familiar with warships.

The valve was closed and the Portland harbor patrol began pumping out the ship.

Wheat

WINNIPEG (CP)—Italy's declaration of war on the Allies turned operations jittery during the last hour of trading on Winnipeg Grain Exchange today. After fluctuating nervously at both higher and lower levels, quotations finished 1 1/4 cents lower, July at 73 1/2, October 76 and December 77 1/2.

Generous rains over widespread sections of the North American spring wheat belt during the week-end brought losses of almost two cents in early trading as scattered liquidation broke through weak support. The market recovered somewhat on Chicago's strength, however, only to sag back to their lows when Italy entered the war on Germany's side.

Short-covering came out when values had slipped two cents under the previous close and the market moved ahead briskly until prices were a cent higher. Reaction again set in and prices retreated once more.

Chicago wheat quotations also fluctuated irregularly at higher and lower positions while Buenos Aires values were off about a cent at the half-way mark.

Coarse grain prices followed those of wheat in thin and uninteresting trading. In the cash wheat market, shippers were credited with taking a little No. 1 northern while other traders remained on the sidelines.

Officer Suggested Use of Tanks

The machines known as tanks have played a big part in the war in Europe. They have rolled over "pill-boxes" and have brought death to thousands of soldiers.

The story of the modern tank goes back to the World War. A British army man, Col. E. D. Swinton, seems to have been the first to figure out a plan.

ANSWER: Wrong. Hail is formed by droplets of water being carried upward to freezing heights by rising drafts of warm air.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—A girl and I have been chums for several years. We are always seen together wherever we go. We are both at the age when we should be keeping steady company with boy friends, but we have no dates. My problem is that my pal gets jealous and moody if I have any other friends. Lately we have had many arguments over this, and I am fed up with it all. I cannot devote myself just to her, can I?

ANSWER: Certainly not. And if you are wise you will not let her monopolize you. A possessive friend who thinks she has a right to all your time and thoughts and interests can become one of the greatest bores and pests in the world.

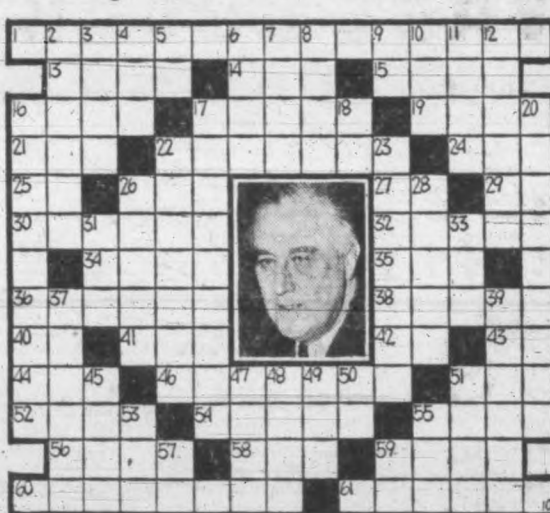

Also a girl who is your inseparable companion will do more than any other one thing to keep the boys away from you. A boy does not want, nor can most lads afford, more than one date at a time. If he has to drag along an extra Jane, he simply passes up the girl with an old woman-of-the-sea around her neck and hunts up one not so encumbered.

DEAR MISS DIX—I am a young professional woman of 28 and have fallen desperately in love at first sight with a young man I have met. He also fell in love with me, and wants to marry me; but he is exactly seven years younger than myself. Is this too great a difference in age?

ANSWER: If he were 31 and you were 38, the seven years' difference in years might not matter, but for a woman of 28 to marry a boy of 21 is taking a desperate risk. A professional woman of 28 is a graduate in the school of life. A boy of 21 is still in the kindergarten class. He doesn't know what he is going to be when he grows up, nor do you, and it will be just luck if you suit each other when he is adult. Better marry somebody in your own age class.

DOROTHY DIX.

HOROSCOPE

TUESDAY, JUNE 11

Early hours today are under adverse sway of the planets, but, later, benefic aspects dominate. The evening is promising for men in authority.

Women may be uncertain in their plans under this configuration. The stars encourage unselfish devotion to wartime service and philanthropic or relief efforts. Girls should study first aid. Nurses are greatly needed and the wise will prepare for work in hospitals.

The usual midsummer slump in trade may be less noticeable than usual. Tests of Canadian enterprise and Canadian resourcefulness will be of unusual character. Government demands on agriculture will be heavy. Farmers will have serious problems in connection with international banking. Demand for trained hands in industry will increase as war effort speeds up. Both young and older men will benefit, the first because of their modern ideas and the second because of their experience.

As the war in Europe progresses conflicts between factions in the German army will cause anxiety to Hitler. The spirit of contention due to ambition will be manifested in Fascist nations. Scandals caused by treachery will be publicized in midsummer.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year of good luck which will be appreciated after one or two unlucky experiences.

Children born on this day may be so independent that they develop eccentricities by their originality of thought and action. They probably will be industrious talented and successful.

Adjusting traffic lights so that they are bright in the day and dimmer at night is being tried in England for blackout reasons, but they may also be planer that way when drivers face the sun.

tories were shutouts. His strikeouts total is close to 11,500. Gears has been with practically every Rochester and New York state championship team in the last 10 years. He has tolled for Kodak Park in the last four U.S. championships.

In 1935, when Kodak was runner-up in the U.S. tournament in Chicago, Gears pitched six games in three days, winning the first five by shutouts and losing the final to Toledo 3 to 1. In 1936, when Kodak won the crown, Gears won five games, four of them shutouts.

Kodak was a third-round victim in 1937, Gears winning one and losing one to South Bend. Kodak was eliminated in the second round last year after Gears had twirled a no-hitter against Baltimore.

Gears has worn glasses since he was a kid. He played some baseball, but caught the softball bug in high school.

He can put the ball to within an inch of where he wants it, with blinding speed.

Gears once hurled 10 straight league games without giving a base on balls and never has passed more than four men in one game.

When the pitching distance was 40 feet he depended mostly on a fast ball with a decided rise. Now, with the distance lengthened three feet, he uses more curves.

A fooling change of pace is another of his weapons, but he uses no trick deliveries, the present rule forbidding them.

For 16 years Gears pitched to the same catcher—Joe Scheid, who retired this season.

to the rear of the leading Seattle Rainiers.

Hollywood took both games from Portland yesterday, winning the first 3 to 2 and the second 8 to 2.

Portland's opponents for this week, the Oakland A's, defeated Seattle four games to three and maintained their standing as the circuit's No. 2 club. In yesterday's doubleheader Oakland won the first 4 to 1 and Seattle took the second, 2 to 1.

At Sacramento, Los Angeles won 5 to 3 in the opener but the Solons came back for a 10 to 9 victory in the nightcap. Lou Novikoff, Los Angeles left fielder, got a home run in each game to bring his total to 22 for the season.

In the other twin bill yesterday San Diego defeated San Francisco 3 to 2 in the opener but lost the nightcap 2 to 1.

FRANKIE PARKER DEFEATS RIGGS

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Frank Parker, Pasadena, Calif., seeded No. 2, won the men's singles championship of the "Heart of America" tennis tournament yesterday defeating Bobby Riggs, Chicago, 4-6, 6-1, 7-5, 8-6.

Riggs, United States and Wimbledon champion, played in spurts, but failed to come through in the finishing games.

Virginia Wolfenden, San Francisco, won the women's singles, defeating Mary Hardwick of England, 6-0, 6-2.

Former graduates of the home service training courses sponsored by the provincial government will be entertained to tea on June 20 at 3 at the Practice House, 1230 St. Patrick Street. Those wishing to attend kindly notify Mrs. Pretty, E 2455.

One and Two-hour Parking Zones Shown

Revised automobile parking areas with hour and two-hour limits on some streets previously free of such regulations are shown in detail on this map prepared and published by distribution by the Real Estate Board of Victoria. One-hour limits are depicted by heavy black, and two-hour zones by shaded portions. Yellow and black-colored metal shields on separate eight-foot posts and electric light poles have been erected to mark the parking zones throughout the business district. The police department has acquired a servi-car to take care of the extra area. Chief J. A. McLellan pointed out the main idea was to facilitate the movement of traffic and provide parking space for genuine shoppers. He urged those who contemplate a stop of more than one hour to familiarize themselves with the streets where a two-hour halt may be made. A one-hour limit was applied to the east side of Blanshard Street, between Yates and Johnson Streets, in order to keep away all-day parkers and allow motorists to pay their telephone bills. At all intersections where automatic traffic signals are installed, the driver of a vehicle which is stopped by the red lights, as close as practicable to the right-hand curb and at the entrance to the nearest cross street, may make a right turn, but shall yield the right-of-way to pedestrians and other traffic which is proceeding as directed by the green light at such intersections.

Jehovah Witnesses May Face Inquiry

KELOWNA, B.C. (CP)—Kootenay Synod of the Anglican Church is seeking an investigation of the Jehovah Witnesses religious sect. A resolution adopted at the 14th annual synod declares:

"Whereas the organization known as the Jehovah Witnesses is definitely a subversive element and is doing considerable harm with its seditious literature, be it resolved that this synod of the Diocese of Kootenay petition both the federal and provincial governments to have this organization thoroughly investigated by the police and action be taken if found necessary."

BURN BUILDING

KENNEBUNK, Me. (AP)—A crowd of 2,000 townspeople yesterday sacked and burned headquarters of a religious sect whose members, state police said, earlier had shot and wounded two Kennebunk motorists.

Dwight Robinson, 22, fell with wounds in his hips and legs. Fred McDonald, 33, suffered leg wounds.

Police said the headquarters were those of a group known as Jehovah's Witnesses, two of whose members were involved in fistfights at Sanford Saturday night, when they allegedly refused to salute a United States flag. The Witnesses have contended their religious belief forbids allegiance other than to the deity.

The mob, armed with clubs and torches, marched to the flimsy, one-story headquarters, fired it, wrecked furniture and destroyed literature.

Members of the sect, aroused by reports of mob violence against two of their group in a nearby town, barricaded themselves in the hall early in the day. When an automobile carrying four Kennebunk men halted near the building, authorities said, a shotgun volley poured from the headquarters into the machine.

Robinson and McDonald were hit, but two companions escaped unhurt.

The motorists, bewildered by the attack, said they were returning home from a dance and had no intention of molesting the religionists.

State police, after confiscating five rifles and two shotguns in the headquarters, arrested the sect's leader, Edwin Bobb, and five members. Three women members were escorted out of town under heavy police guard.

HULL CALLS MOVE GREAT TRAGEDY

WASHINGTON (AP)—State Secretary Cordell Hull this afternoon said Italy's entry into the war would "prove a great disappointment to people everywhere and a great human tragedy."

Mr. Hull said he had learned of Italy's action only from someone who had listened to Mussolini's speech and had not had time to study the address.

Mr. Hull said the question of extending the neutrality act would be considered. The neutrality law puts purchases of belligerents on a cash-and-carry basis. United States shipping also would be banned from seas adjacent to the belligerents.

The French ambassador, Count Rene St. Quentin, was in conference with Under-Secretary Sumner Welles at the time Mussolini delivered his speech. The ambassador afterward said their conference was of a general nature and did not concern Italy's decision.

Graafstra and Madore were members of the all-Canadian squadron of the Royal Air Force. Dyer, 27, received the Distinguished Flying Cross on May 31 for "exceptional courage and devotion to duty." He entered the R.A.F. in 1936 and in 1939 was promoted to flying officer.

The list included 28 killed in action, 24 wounded and 155 missing, and 12 killed on active service, six wounded and 14 died. There were also nine listed as prisoners of war.

OTTAWA TO HEAR PROGRESS IN AIR

OTTAWA (CP)—Parliament this week is due to hear from Air Minister Fowler a statement on Canada's wartime aviation. It may come before this evening's sitting ends.

First order of business, however, has to do with the defence of Canada regulations. Prime Minister Mackenzie King has given notice of a resolution setting up a special committee to consider them.

The committee is to decide whether the regulations which govern the liberties of Canadians while their country is at war are too stringent or not stringent enough. There has been agitation both ways.

Meantime the most probable date for Finance Minister Ralston to present what in all likelihood will be the biggest budget in Canadian history appears to be June 20. Then Canadians will learn just how big a share of his year's estimate war cost of $700,000,000 they are expected to contribute in the form of additional taxes.

DEMONSTRATION OF SPEECH ARTS

Mrs. Jean Campbell of Winnipeg, after adjudicating the Speech Arts Festival at Vancouver, will visit Victoria on June 21, when she will adjudicate at a speech arts demonstration which is being arranged by Mrs. Wilfrid Ord, principal of the Victoria School of Expression.

It is hoped that both present and past students will avail themselves of this opportunity to have their work judged by a capable adjudicator.

At such short notice intensive preparation is impossible, therefore those taking part may choose their own selections of poems, prose, monologues or speeches. All entries must be sent in to Mrs. Ord by June 17. Marks will be given, but no trophies will be awarded.

The event will take place in the auditorium of St. Margaret's School at 7.30.

MINISTRIES' STAFFS MOVE FROM PARIS

PARIS (CP)—Reuters reported tonight Paris had been placed in a state of defence.

The news agency said the permanent staffs of ministries were removed yesterday and today to the provinces. The heads of the government, it said, remained in the capital.

Trading on the Paris Bourse was suspended today by order of the board of governors an hour after the day's session had opened.

It is not yet known whether the Bourse is to be transferred outside Paris.

Earlier dispatches said an indication of a possible withdrawal of part of the government was Premier Reynaud's cancellation of a cabinet meeting scheduled for tonight in Paris. Some important files and papers of the government had already been moved out of the city. In the last war the government moved to Bordeaux for a few months late in 1914 when the Germans threatened Paris.

United States Ambassador William Bullitt went to see Premier Paul Reynaud immediately after last night's cabinet meeting, embassy sources said today.

(The National Broadcasting Company early today broadcast an erroneous report that the ambassador had attended a meeting of the French cabinet.)
